Between the presentations of the Miss contestants in their business wear, swimsuits and evening wear, and the Little Miss contestants in their playwear and party dresses along with their speeches and interviews, the list was narrowed down to two. Miss Antioch 2000 Nikki Paden and Little Miss 2000 Shannon Cahill passed on their crowns to Erin Haley and Mallory Lukasik respectively.

First runner-up in the Miss competition went to Gillian Owens, and Shannon Day was named miss congeniality. For the second year running, Cassidy Cahill was named both first runner-up and miss congeniality in the Little Miss competition.

In the program's farewell letter outgoing queen Nikki Paden said, "Shannon and I also have had the opportunity to influence others' live, whether it was caroling at Winchester House in Libertyville, volunteering at the Children's Art Fair at the Cuneo Museum or participating in a Lake County fashion show that raised over $4,000 for the Central Baptist Children's Home in Lake Villa. These activities helped us realize that serving others can be just as much fun as doing things for oneself."

Picking up where these two leave off will be no problem for Haley or Lukasik as both are already involved with community service through Brownie Scouts for the Little Miss and through numerous school and outside projects for the new Miss Antioch. Haley chose to talk about teen involvement in the community in her pageant speech mentioning her work as a peer mediator, freshman advisor and as a tutor for both grade school and high school students. Additionally, she has volunteered to help with the Antioch Police Dept. DARE program, the Lions Club and through her church.

In a phone interview Lukasik echoed her pageant speech and said, "I want to be the first female president. You get to make sure everybody is treated fairly, and make the laws."

The theme of this year's pageant was "You'll be in my heart" and both winners expressed that when Lukasik answered that the word love makes her think of her mother while Haley said she holds her grandfather closest to her heart.

"I've gotten really close to my grandfather over the past couple of years," said Haley in an interview. "He has trouble getting out and wasn't able to be at the pageant. I was really glad to have my friends and family there, but I really wish he could have been there."

Lukasik will start second grade at Emmons School this fall and Haley will go to CLC.

Hearing resumes for Neumann Homes

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

At the meeting of the combined planning commission and zoning board, board member Tom Baba requested an executive session to be updated on the pending litigation prior to the resumption on the Neumann Homes public hearing on June 25 at 6:30 p.m. at the Antioch Community High School.

Village attorney Donald Anderson said, "I don't feel it is against the open meeting act (to call an executive session when it hasn't posted on the agenda)."

The public hearing regarding Neumann Homes proposed PUD (planned unit development) calling for 1308 homes on the 634-acre Anest property was postponed, in part, because of the issue of sewer and water based on the complaint filed by the limited liability company Deercrest, and Otto Sprenger against Kenneth Glick, Lake County and the Village of Antioch on Sept. 6, 2000.

At the previous meeting of the board of directors of the Village of Antioch, Anderson said, "The hearing needs to be completed with the either the board approving or disapprove the proposed PUD." He added that this is being done now because Neumann Homes hopes to begin construction this summer if the proposal is approved.

Rummage sale bursting at the seams with treasures

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The overstuffed rooms of the St. Peter School now housing the goodies for the 42nd annual St. Peter's Church rummage sale will overwhelm even well seasoned garage sale aficionados. The sale, that begins earlier than in previous years with a 6 a.m. opening on June 21, has taken over the entire school - every room, including the gymnasium, basement and outdoor playground is filled with anything and everything imaginable including automobiles.

In a mere three weeks, donations have been collected, sized, sorted and priced. The sale's chairwoman Claudette Skvarce said, "We have over 60 couches, 40 dressers and 75 bikes. You name it, we have it."

Skvarce, who took a break last year after 13 years as the rummage sale's chair, is happy to be back organizing the sale this year. "Everybody involved enjoys doing this," said Skvarce. "I was fresh coming back this year."

Bargain hunters can also find working televisions and computers. "Anything that doesn't work is thrown out," said Skvarce. "We have someone who really knows computers checking them all out."

Even with 100 volunteers working to put this rummage sale together, Skvarce said they have all had to work long hours.

Proceeds from this sale support the St. Peter parish and its school, and is the biggest fundraiser of the year. "People are very generous and very good," said Skvarce. "It's obvious when you walk through here."

Five alarm fire destroyed homes, but lives spared

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"It was lucky that all the people got out," said Antioch Fire Dept. Capt. Jeff Vandevor of the five alarm fire that leveled the Beetle Beach restaurant and the 12 apartments situated on the second floor above it on June. "Residential fires at that time of the morning aren't good." Only one resident was treated for smoke inhalation.

The Antioch 911 Center received the first call from the building itself located at 25630 Dressells Rd. in Antioch Township to report the fire at about 2:54 a.m. and the situation escalated to a five-alarm fire by 5:02 a.m. "This happened in an area without fire hydrants," said Vandevor. "A lot of tankers, and manpower, were needed to bring in water."

Though the first firefighters on the scene encountered heavy smoke, the residents had been evacuated. According to Vandevor, the Red Cross assisted six of the families in finding housing, while the other six went to the homes of family or friends.

Fire Chief Dennis Volling said, "This was a stubborn fire that required a significant amount of personnel and water, both of which were easily provided by the use of the Box Alarm System." The flames were reportedly brought under control by 7 a.m.

Vandevor said early investigation points to the older building's electrical system as the cause of the fire that caused about $350,000. "There was really nothing left of the tavern or the apartments," he said. "It was all destroyed."

Event to benefit village

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

With three fires in as many weeks ranging from a small garage fire to one that destroyed the Beetle Beach Resort leaving 12 families homeless, there is no doubt that supporting the Antioch Fire Fighters Association is a worthy cause. Eating pancakes with friends and family on June 24 from 7 a.m.-noon at the main fire station located at Orchard and Holbek is an easy way to do it.

Capt. John Lucas, president of the association said, "We use the money for training, public education materials and equipment. This year our goal is earn money for dive rescue equipment."

The association hopes to buy full-face underwater masks with a communication system that would allow divers to communicate with each other while under water as well as the boat and rescue teams on the surface. "There are more water rescues than I'd like," said Lucas. "There are even water rescues in the winter with snowmobiles going under the ice."

Last year's fundraiser helped the association purchase its new ladder truck that will be on display along with the rest of the fire department's vehicles. "We will also have the smoke trailer set up for the kids so they can learn to stop, drop and roll," said Lucas.

Along with the breakfast there will be a raffle and prizes. The raffle offers cash prizes in the amounts of $500, $300 and $200. "Merchants in the area donate lots of prizes," said Lucas. "Everyone is very generous."

Raffle tickets will be sold at the door for $1 each or six for $5.

Neumann Homes organizes clean-up

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Shelley Manning, a representative of Neumann Homes, addressed the board of directors of the Village of Antioch on behalf of Neumann Homes requesting that the developer be allowed to organize an all volunteer clean up in the area of the proposed development.

Permission was granted and on June 24 the volunteer group will cleanup Savage Road between Rte. 173 and Miller Rd., a one-half mile stretch of Miller Rd. and about one mile along White Rd. Manning said, "The cleanup will begin after the fireman's pancake breakfast," and later clarified that would be about 10:30 a.m.

Neumann Homes made arrangements with Waste Management for a dumpster and garbage bags to aid the cleanup effort. The dumpster will be dropped off on June 23 and picked up on June 25.

Trustee Larry Hanson said, "Can I ask why you're doing this? Are you just being good neighbors?"

Manning replied, "We thought it would be nice to clean it up." She noted that a lot of dumping occurs in that area.

Police Chief Charlie Watkins confirmed that the police department receives about five calls per year about dumping on White Rd.

Sequoit Pride golf outing limited

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Sequoit Pride sixth annual golf outing being held on July 18 is limited to 144 golfers, and early signup is recommended.

The outing will be held at the Antioch Golf Club located at Rte. 59 and Grass Lake Road with a 1 p.m. shotgun start. Sandwiches and beverages will be served at the clubhouse for lunch.

Hospitality, followed by a family-style feast, will begin at 6 p.m.

The cost of $80 per person covers 18 holes of golf, one-half electric golf cart, lunch, dinner and prizes. Other packages include golf and lunch for $50 and hospitality and dinner only for $35.

Various sponsorships are available from a $50 cart sponsorship on up to a $750 lunch sponsorship. A gray (hole) sponsorship is $175, a cardinal (tee) sponsorship is $250 as is the "beer on course" sponsorship. Four dinner sponsorships are available at $550.

Donations of raffle items are appreciated.

Sequoit Pride is a parent group that provides additional funding for student enrichment programs at Antioch Community High School (ACHS). Last year's event raised over $22,000 for the high school's students and programs.

Checks should be made to Sequoit Pride and mailed to the following address: Antioch Community High School, 1133 S. Main St., Antioch, IL 60002. For more information call 395-1421, ext. 231.

Pie bakers wanted for contest

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Apple pie bakers are wanted to participate in the ninth annual apple pie baking contest sponsored by Mayor Taso Maravelas and the village trustees for this Fourth of July celebration.

There are two categories within the contest: one for traditional two-crust apple pie and a second for Dutch apple. A first prize of $100 and a certificate and a second prize of $50 and a certificate will be awarded to winners in each category.

"There is always a good turn out for this contest," said Glenda Sorensen, assistant community development director. "The pie is sold with ice cream after the judging as a dessert, and the proceeds go to the Fourth of July festivities."

There is a $2 entry fee for each category entered, and participants may enter in either one or both categories. Bakers must bake two identical pies per category, and deliver them to Williams Park between 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Judging begins at 12:30 p.m. by a panel of distinguished judges from throughout the village.

"It's not necessary to be a resident to enter this contest," said Sorensen. "We like to have a lot of pies for the judges to choose from."

To enter, mail name, address, phone and category(ies) of entry to: Village of Antioch, attention pie contest, 874 Main St., Antioch, IL 60002. For more information, call 395-1000.

Sign up for Fourth of July events

The Fourth of July is fast approaching and many of the games and events require pre-registration. Get signed up for these events now so you don't miss out on the fun.

Tug-O-War teams of four adults, both men and women, need to sign up ahead of time with the village to be able to participate. The registration fee is $20 per team and is payable to the Village of Antioch, attention: Tug-O-War, 874 Main St., Antioch, IL 60002. Include the names of all four team members.

The mayor and village trustees are sponsoring the ninth annual apple pie baking contest for both traditional two-crust and Dutch apple pies. Two pies are required for each category entered. The cost of entry is $2 per category. Send name, address, phone and category along with the registration fee to the Village of Antioch, attention: apple pie baking contest, 874 Main St., Antioch, IL 60002.

The First National Bank-Employee Owned is sponsoring the sports tournament at Williams Park.

The registration deadline is June 25. There will be crazy co-ed softball for those 16 years old and up, beginning on July 3 with room for 12-20 teams. For more information, call Elaine Loneragan at 395-3443 or Mike Gliniewicz at 395-1888.

There is room for eight teams in the co-ed sand volleyball tournament for those 16 years old and over. For more information call Kevin Daw at 395-4760.

Thelen Sand and Gravel, Captain Curtis and the Antioch Lanes are co-sponsoring the horseshoe tournament with the bank. There is room for 16 teams. For more information call Phil Lindberg at 395-0442.

Registration by mail for Antioch's 5K Run for Freedom should be posted by June 27, though there is the option of registering on the day of the race from 6 a.m.-7:50 a.m. at the start location of Poplar Ave. and Cunningham Dr.

Registration and packet pickup is available at the State Bank of The Lakes at 440 Lake St. until July 3. For more information, call 395-2700 and ask for Mary Lou or Rosemary.

On a slightly different note, Trustee Scott Pierce mentioned how wonderful the concert series has been at the William E. Brook Entertainment Center at the last board meeting.

This Sunday, June 24, the Banjo Buddies Dixieland Band will be playing. There aren't too many Dixieland show bands this far north of the Mason-Dixon line. Check them out. The show starts at 5 p.m.

It's 10 a.m. and time for singing lessons

When were the carefree days of summer replaced with structure, regiment and summer camps? We spent summers floating on rafts, building tree forts, eating wild mulberries till our lips and hands turned purple, and riding bikes until night descended upon the neighborhood and mom hollered out the back door for us to come home. Our parents chatted in backyards and we kids banged the screen door each time we refilled our Tupperware glasses with Kool-Aid. We spent evenings catching lightening bugs and swatting mosquitoes. The only time spent away from home was a visit to grandma's, and not at the local university sleeping, eating, and breathing a particular skill for a whole week.

Now summers are so orderly, brimming

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Lynn Pringle

with events that keep children and parents running from one activity to the next with very little time to just play. Who needed formal swimming training at the local Y? Dad just threw us off the end of the pier and either we learned real quick how to swim or we sank—lesson complete. We certainly didn't have basketball, baseball and football camps sponsored by professional athletes. We all just met in the empty lot at the end of the block and whoever owned the ball picked teams and the games began.

Moms are no longer free to spend their days chatting over the back fence, instead they are in hallways of school buildings where summer camps are taking place trying to map out how they can be in three places, miles apart, within the next 27 minutes. When one event is finished, the children are shuttled into the family SUV, and given their Game Boys to keep them entertained while mom drives like a maniac towards the next destination of instruction.

Here moms rally in the parking lot with their calendars and pencil in car pool duty. And those early morning golf lessons at 7 a.m. just about do a mom in. One would think they would keep those early tee off times for older folks who are up at that hour of the morning and let the kids sleep in. But, of course, if the kids get started any later that would cut into their computer programming lessons, creative writing classes and under water basket weaving instructions. Summers used to be the time to rejuvenate and relax, but now, for moms especially, they are hell. Its hard to recall exactly when it was that Gatorade replaced Kool-Aid or all those registration papers for various camps began filling our mailboxes, but it seems that right about now somebody needs to come up with a camp that teaches us over-achieving parents the basics on how to just let our children be kids.

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

DUI

Mario Chavez, 36, of 10433 266th Ave. in Trevor, Wis., was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and for driving with a suspended driver's license on June 18 at 2:10 a.m. on Rte. 173 at Tiffany Rd.

Police observed a vehicle approach the intersection of routes 173 and 59 without its headlights on and continue to drive into an area without streetlights and with the headlights remaining off.

As the officer spoke with Chavez the strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected. Chavez gave police his Wisconsin identification and said he did not have a driver's license. A check through LEADS/NCIC came back with Chavez having no Wisconsin driver's license and a suspended Illinois driver's license.

Chavez was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he agreed to a breath test resulting in .255 blood alcohol concentration. He was issued additional citations for driving without headlights where required, driving with a blood alcohol concentration above .08 and for driving while suspended.

He was released on $300 cash bond pending his July 17 court date.

James C. Sharp, 22, of 3425 Sherman in Gurnee, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on June 17 at 3:41 a.m. on Rte. 173 and Tiffany Rd.

Sharp's vehicle failed to dim its headlights as it passed the patrol car. The officer turned around and followed the vehicle and saw it pull sharply onto the shoulder and make a quick U-turn.

Sharp told police he did not have his license with him, but that he did have one through California. The strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on Sharp's breath as spoke to the officer, and he failed all field sobriety tests.

The officer ran Sharp's identifiers through LEADS/NCIC with information coming back that his California driver's license was suspended and that he had none in Illinois.

Sharp was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was issued citations for driving under the influence of alcohol. He agreed to a breath test resulting in .135 blood alcohol concentration. He was issued additional citations for failure to dim headlights, DUI over .08 blood alcohol concentration, improper U-turn, and no valid driver's license.

He was released on cash bond pending his July 10 court date.

Suspended/obstructing a peace officer

Roberto Chavez, 22, of 306 Jackson in Waukegan, was arrested for driving with a suspended driver's license and for obstructing a peace officer on June 18 at 2:39 a.m. at the intersection of routes 173 and 59.

Police locked his vehicle traveling 35 mph in 20-mph zone and turned around to follow the vehicle. At the intersection of routes 173 and 59, the vehicle was in the westbound through lane, but activated the left turn signal and turned onto Rte. 59 from the wrong lane.

Chavez told police he had no driver's license or identification but said his name was Roberto Aguirre and gave a false date of birth. Police checked this information through LEADS/NCIC/SOS via dispatch and was told there was no record on file.

The officer told Chavez he was under arrest for not having a driver's license, and requested that he exit the vehicle. At that time, police found a wallet on the driver's seat containing an alien card for Chavez with a photo that matched. Chavez's identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC/SOS via dispatch and confirmed Chavez to have a suspended driver's license for driving under the influence.

Chavez was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for speeding, improper turn, driving while suspended and obstructing a peace officer. He was released on $100 cash bond pending his July 25 court date.

No valid driver's license

Brian M. Abear, 19, of 1223 Main St. in Antioch, was arrested for driving with no valid driver's license on June 17 at 12:01 p.m. at the intersection of routes 83 and 173.

Police observed a vehicle make a wide right-hand turn traveling partially into the southbound lane and then continuing north.

A check of Abear's identification through LEADS confirmed his Wisconsin driver's license to be suspended. He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for improper turn, uninsured vehicle and no valid driver's license.

Abear was released on personal recognizance pending his July 25 court date.

Michael A. Wilcox, 38, of 1820 N. Delany in Gurnee, was arrested for driving with no valid driver's license on June 13 at 12:51 a.m. on Rte. 173 west of Deep Lake Rd.

Police locked his vehicle traveling 65 mph in a 50-mph zone. Wilcox told police his driver's license was being held by the courts for a ticket and supplied an Illinois state identification card.

His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC/SOS via dispatch and confirmed Wilcox had expired driver's license as of April 7, 1998. He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for speeding and driving with no valid driver's license.

Wilcox was released on personal recognition pending his July 25 court date.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Attend meeting to hear proposed development

Dear surrounding communities of Antioch,

It is very important for each and every one of us to come to the planning and zoning meeting on June 25 at the Antioch Community High School at 6:30 p.m. Neumann Homes is returning for discussion of their proposed 1308 homes that would affect all surrounding communities.

Those who are concerned about the impact this development would have on our schools, traffic, public safety and general impact it will have on our woodlands, wildlife and some rare plants need to show your concern about this type of density.

This will impact all of us: village, township and surrounding areas. The high school is trying to pass an education fund, and the Neumann Homes development is not even figured into the new high school being built.

Show the mayor, village board and zoning board members we do care.

Joan Horan

Take aim!

Young golfers out there, take notice. Got a mid-season glitch in that swing? Well, one of the more popular camps has returned to Midlane Country Club and Resort in Wadsworth this summer.

Dead Aim Golf Camps, based out of Chicago and now operating in its fourth year at Midlane, provides a great opportunity to sharpen that wedge or long iron game for players on all skill levels. They achieve this through intense practice sessions while also having a good time.

Dead Aim offers 30 week-long and 3-day camps at various intervals and locations during the summer.

If you need practice, this is the ticket!

A typical day in the life of a camper at Dead Aim involves full-swing practice for an hour each day, followed by an hour of emphasis on putting and then concentration on chipping, putting and sand play.

Following the practice sessions is a Skills Challenge, which includes daily short game contests. Prizes are awarded in many categories.

As far as remaining dates for Dead Aim at Midlane, there is an Advanced Course Management Camp June 27-29 for age groups 10-16. The time is 2-4 p.m. each day and costs $185. Two skills development camps are also slated for July 10-13 and 24-27 for youngsters aged 7-14. Campers will meet from 1-4 during these two camps. The cost for each is $275. Each full week camp is limited to 24 kids, while the 3-day camps are limited to 12 so hurry.

"We've had an excellent turnout during our first four years (at the full-week camp at Midlane)," said Dead Aim Golf Camp Coordinator Chris Livatino. "We've probably taught over 100 kids in that time."

Not only is the camp successful because of the intense practicing, working with an instructor on a 6:1 instructor/camper ration is also beneficial.

"We try to keep them (the camps) small as to promote more of that 1-on-1 attention," added Livatino.

Dead Aim is also in its second year of hosting two tournaments, both at Midlane in July. There are two age groups; the 11-14 division, which plays 18 holes; and, a 10-and-under division which plays nine holes for the competition. Livatino said that the tournaments have received tremendous response.

"We usually average about 50 participants for each," he said.

For further inquiries on the Dead Aim Golf Camps, call the toll free number at (877) 442-9006 or visit the web at www.coachclick.com.

And, speaking of dead aim, two local players turned in solid performances at the American Junior Golf Association Chicago Open last week at Winnetka GC. Libertyville's Mike Schachner, the leading qualifier at Bitersweet last week, carded rounds of 76-80-78 to finish in 48th place. Meanwhile, Grayslake native Thom Irvin, sixth in qualifying, posted scores of 83-79-80 to finish in 66th.

The 20th annual Vista Star Hospice Golf Outing will be held Wednesday, June 27, at Midlane Country Club, 4555 Yorkhouse Rd., Wadsworth. The day begins with a luncheon at noon followed by a shotgun start at 1 p.m. Cocktails, hors d'oeuvres buffet, raffle and awards follow at 6 p.m. Cost $225 per person. All proceeds benefit Vista Star Hospice. Call 360-4248 for more information and to reserve your space.

John Phelps can be reached at (847) 223-8161, ext. 132; fax (847) 223-8810; or e-mail at edit@lnd.com.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

What was boxer Michael Spinks' professional record before he squared off against Mike Tyson for the heavyweight title?

Look for the answer in next week's SIDELINES

Answer to last week's question: Eighty-three shots on goal were taken by the Boston Bruins during a 3-2 victory over the Chicago Blackhawks. Hawks goalie Sam LoPresti made 80 stops during this classic shootout.

Everyone's a winner at Dolan Golf Challenge

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Whatever the limitation, it all boils down to helping people.

And the Dan Dolan Golf Challenge and the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago have provided a winning formula for six years and counting.

Held every year at the Merit Club in Gurnee, the two forces have generated a gross amount of $800,000 for RIC programs. Funds go towards pediatric care and the Wirtz Sports Program. Money raised also goes towards helping those in need of financial assistance.

"Right now there is approximately 60 percent of all children with disabilities that come for care at RIC and they don't have any means of insurance," said Dolan, a native of Lake Forest.

"We started the tournament to promote awareness and advocacy for individuals with disabilities. To look at what these special athletes have to overcome, it's very inspiring."

Currently, RIC has 18 different sports programs with over 2,000 participants.

The Dolan Challenge originated in 1992 after John Morgan Dolan, the son of Dan and Mary Dolan, passed away just before he was three. His spinal cord had been severed at birth, leaving him paralyzed from the chin down.

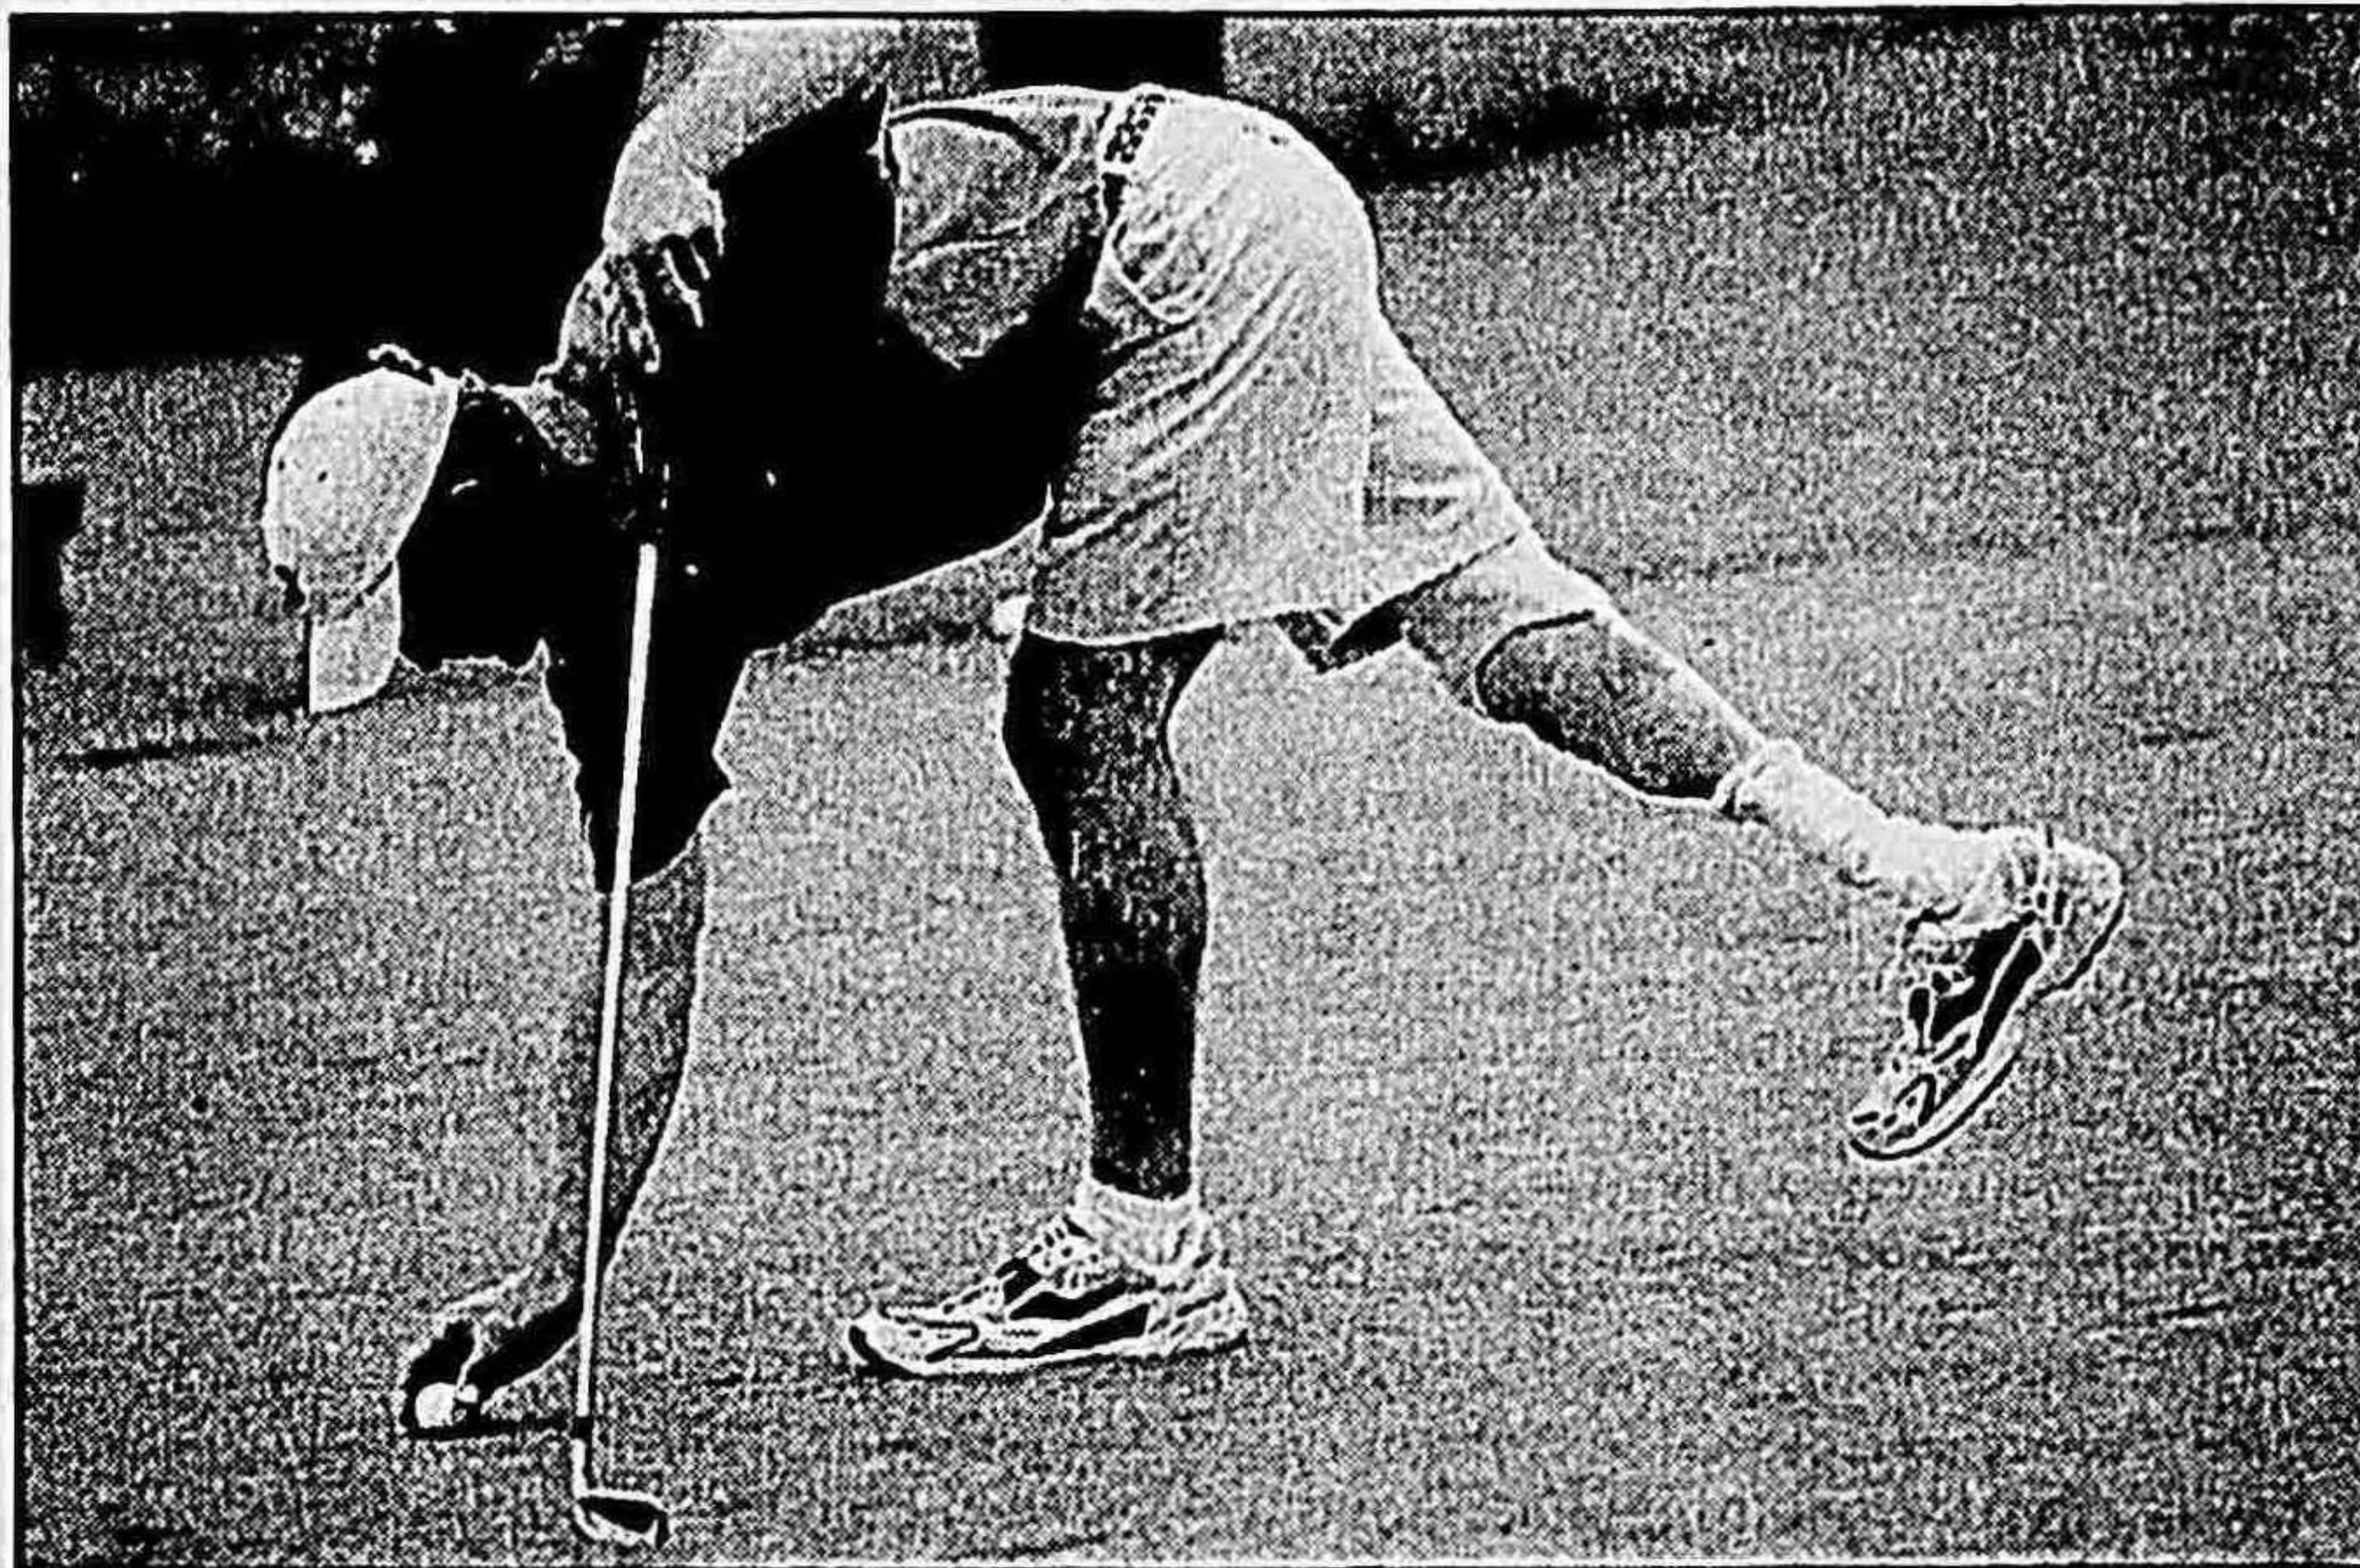

"It's in honor of John - he inspired so many of our friends," continued Dolan. "He showed that there is a quality of life for all people."

As far as the format for the event, four able-bodied golfers were paired with one disabled golfer in a scramble format.

A group from the Southern Illinois Healthcare Systems won the team event with a sizzling net score of 56. Larry Dobbs of Rockford, a 32-handicapper playing with a prosthetic leg, carded a gross score of 65 to take top honors among the disabled golfers.

All in all, roughly $150,000 was raised at this year's event.

"It was again another tremendous success," said RIC Director of Public Relations Jann Ingmire. "It was special today because for the first time in our seven years we had a blind golfer, Ed Hill from Elmhurst."

Mark Sasser of Wildwood, who lost his right leg due to a benign tumor, participates in the John Dolan Golf Challenge at the Merit Club golf course in Gurnee. The event was sponsored by the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago.—Photo by Sandy Bressner

George Yaksic of Chicago has also benefited from RIC and the Dolan Golf Challenge.

"I suffered a spinal cord injury on the job and can't walk," he said. "I'm very grateful to RIC and the Dolan Challenge because some of the money raised helped purchase a golf cart for me."

Yaksic is a great story because his cart holds the clubs in front. Since he is limited with standing erect, he grabs his club and swings his seat around, thus hitting from the sitting position.

"It's pretty neat because of the rotating chair - it locks when I turn around to hit the ball," he said.

People like Yaksic are all the reason this event has been such a big success - it not only helps current RIC athletes, but raises money for potential incoming athletes into the program.

Currently, RIC is working on funds for a 15-passenger van.

"That's one of our concerns," added Dolan. "Transporting athletes to and from events."

Dolan and RIC got an extra boost when the U.S.G.A. presented them with a check for $24,000 prior to the start of the event. In addition, Quaker Oats CEO Bob Morrison also donated $7,500 sponsorship dollars, which was matched by RIC and the Dolan Challenge.

"We have a health and fitness center at RIC, send numerous athletes to the Paralympics, and over the last seven years, have brought in over 1,000 new participants," said Ingmire. "It's just a terrific event. Everyone has a good time and it's for a great cause."

Local players in the field representing the disabled golfer included Wildwood's Mark Sasser and Libertyville's Marty Neal.

Sponsors play vital role in Lake Villa Baseball

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

Lake Villa Youth Baseball (LVYB) took a little time out to honor the people responsible for funding a successful league during Sponsor's Night June 13 at the LVYB baseball complex.

The ceremony and dedications were held on field 2 prior to the start of the Bronco All-Star game.

After a brief introduction of the league board and officers, Carol Flatley introduced each individual sponsor and their contributions to the league. Among all sponsors, Rosen Motors led the way in accepting five plaques while sponsoring four teams and having four signs on the outfield walls.

"Supporting a league like this means giving back to the community," said Marty Rohr, representative for Rosen Motors.

This is Rosen Motors second year sponsoring the league and they currently have a new store opening in Lake Villa in January 2002.

"They (Rosen Motors) came into a community like this and they can make a huge difference," said Lake Villa Baseball League President Jim Breitbach. "They are leading the way in what we're trying to do."

'Ultimately the (sponsors) mean a higher quality of baseball. They keep the prices down and allow us to make improvements to the fields.'

Lake Villa Baseball Leagues President
Jim Breitbach

Breitbach believes that without the sponsorship the league has achieved, it could not develop into the league it has become.

"Tonight, we want to take a moment to honor all our sponsors and count their support," said Breitbach. "Ultimately they (sponsors) mean a higher quality of baseball. They keep the prices down and allow us to make improvements to the fields."

With the money donated by sponsors, such things as a new concession stand and lights on the field have become a reality for LVYB.

Breitbach recalls times when residents that live along the baseball fields have called him to ask for schedules so they can barbecue and watch night baseball.

"There has been a lot of support from the community, everyone seems to be very involved," he said.

With sponsorship at an all-time high, all numbers concerning the league seem to be up.

"Our sponsorship is higher than it has ever been, sponsors see the park and they want to be a part of it (LVYB)," added Breitbach.

With the increase in sponsorship, the league has also seen an increase in enrollment. The league took a 30 percent growth into this year and Breitbach believes the same will be in store for next season. The jump in enrollment can be attributed to low prices and just for the overall environment the LVYB has created with help from their sponsors.

Tone those skills at ACHS hoops camp

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

Summer basketball camps at Antioch High School have proved to be beneficial to players as coaches.

Throughout the summer there are a total of four youth camps being conducted. They consist of groupings in different age levels starting with fourth and fifth-grade. The next level is sixth and seventh-grade, followed by eighth, ninth and 10th-grades. The final camp is for juniors and seniors in high school.

Head varsity basketball coach Jeff Dresser leads the camps while being assisted by Tom Duffy, Norm Hahn, John Walker, Rico Ellis, Bruce Tossey and Jeff Moxley. He also receives help from sophomore and varsity players that played for him the previous year.

"My philosophy (about the camps) is to get them (kids) interested in basketball by having fun at the camps so that they want to play more. If they play more, then they'll get better," said Dresser.

Part of the way Dresser makes the camps more enjoyable is by splitting them up into half practices and half games. He also lets the kids compete in the different contests in areas such as shooting and dribbling.

"Basically, we work on individual skills at first - that's where you can improve. But if you don't practice anything outside the camp you won't get any better," said Dresser. "You might get more mature, but you won't get any better as far as your skills."

A big part of the camps for coaches and players alike is to be more comfortable with the high school basketball program. Recognizing coaches faces and learning the offense are a must in summer basketball camps.

"It's nice to see them so we can teach them some skills," said Dresser. "We're trying to teach them some things that will make them better come November when they come to try out."

For information on the basketball camps or camps in general at ACHS, please call 395-1421, ext. 240 for Athletic Director Steve Schoenfelder.

What's Important to Lakeland

Home ownership is the American dream.

• Community Development

Home ownership is the American dream. It's the foundation of the middle class. It's the key to financial security. It's the way to build a better future for yourself and your family. But for many people, the dream is out of reach. They don't have the money to buy a home. They don't have the credit to get a loan. They don't have the knowledge to navigate the complex process of buying a home. That's why community development is so important. It's the way to help people overcome these barriers and achieve the American dream. Community development programs provide a variety of services, including financial counseling, credit counseling, and home ownership counseling. They also provide access to affordable housing opportunities. By helping people overcome these barriers, community development programs can help build a stronger, more prosperous community.

• Real Estate

Real estate is the backbone of the economy. It's the way we build our homes, our businesses, and our communities. Real estate professionals play a vital role in helping people buy and sell homes, and in developing new housing opportunities. They are the ones who help people find the home of their dreams, and they are the ones who help developers build the homes of the future.

• Public Housing

Public housing is a vital part of the housing system. It provides a safe and affordable place to live for people who cannot afford to buy a home. Public housing programs are run by local governments, and they are funded by federal and state governments. Public housing programs provide a variety of services, including financial counseling, credit counseling, and home ownership counseling. They also provide access to affordable housing opportunities. By helping people overcome these barriers, public housing programs can help build a stronger, more prosperous community.

The search for the best teddy bear may lead to one's own sewing box

Gayle Thompson stitches together a bear that will eventually look like the one at right, after about eight hours of work. Behind her, artist Jo Martinson of Algonquin helps Louise Chamberlain, of Antioch, on her Teddy Bear during a class at Josie's Bears and Dolls in downtown Antioch. "Edward Bear, known to his friends as Winnie-the-Pooh, or Pooh for short, was walking through the forest one day, humming proudly to himself. He had made up a little hum that very morning, as he was doing his Stoutness Exercises in front of the glass..."
(from "Winnie the Pooh" by A. A. Milne)

It's nearly the 100th anniversary of the teddy bear and the love of and quest for the best one is as insatiable as ever, beginning when Brooklyn candy store owner Morris Michtom created the first teddy out of brown plush in 1902. The bear was named after President Theodore Roosevelt, and was inspired by a cartoon in the "Washington Post" by Clifford K. Berryman called "Drawing the line in Mississippi" depicting news story accounts of Roosevelt's refusal to kill a small brown bear cub that his hosts had tied to a tree after an unsuccessful hunt.

At the same time, Richard Steiff of the German Margarete Steiff company (and Margarete's nephew) began working on a jointed bear using sketches he had drawn of a family of bears from the Nill Zoo in Stuttgart. The first bear was finished later that year. At the Leipzig Trade Fair in 1903, an American buyer ordered 3,000 of the bears, and by 1905 the classical "Richard Steiff bear" was refined.

Steiff, with its signature style, quality materials and instantly recognizable "button in ear" trademark is arguably the most well known teddy bear maker worldwide.

In spite of the company's impeccable reputation for quality, for some, the dozens of models of bears Steiff makes are too recognizable. "I really like Steiff bears, don't get me wrong," said Josie Rizzo, owner of Josie's Dolls and Teddy Bears in Antioch. "The reason I don't stock them is that they really all look about the same."

Hollywood and religion came together at Lakeland Media Newspaper to shoot a scene from the upcoming Christian feature film "The Calling." Director Michael Brown of Testimony Video Productions, based in Wauconda, along with Hollywood actress Yvonna Lynn, John Wayne, a Chicago area professional actor who resides in Mt. Prospect, and volunteers from the Lake County area spent about six hours filming a scene for the movie in the editorial offices of Lakeland Newspaper.

Produced by Paula Cantu from Hollywood, the actors were filming a scene where a newspaper reporter was presenting a new story lead to the editor, about a "miracle man" preacher walking across the country.

Cantu is a former executive assistant director for Robert Altman, famed Hollywood director.

According to Linda Shipman, public relations director for Lakeland Media, "They chose Lakeland for the movie because they wanted the authentic style news room. They wanted the hustle and bustle."

Starring in the role of the reporter was Lynn, a Hollywood actress and former model, who played in the film "Dr. T. and the Women," which was directed by Altman. Playing the part of the editor was Wayne, whose credits include commercials and feature length bit parts.

Lakeland Media staff including Graphic Designer Joan Morrissey, the Round Lake staff reporter and Publisher William Schroeder along with members of Willow Creek Community Church and Life Changers Church in Barrington, served as extras for the filming.

"The Calling" is about an African American pastor in his late 40's who gets called by God to walk across the country preaching the gospel. He takes only $20, a backpack, a change of clothes and a sleeping bag on his journey.

Along the way there are marvelous wonders and miracles of God as well as a media hunt to track down this miracle man who at times is hounded by prejudice.

According to Brown, "The film is a fascinating journey of faith, perseverance and redemption, as it follows the journey of a man who is walking after God's own heart."

Cantu said that almost everyone working on the film is doing it on a volunteer basis because they believe in the message.

She commented, "I feel there is a bigger hand in this than mine, and that God is wanting me to use my talents in this."

Also helping out with the film were: Beth Palmer, 23, a costume designer from Ohio; Meecheeca Roberson, 22, a script supervisor from Rock Island; Cheryl Guadagnoli, a freelance production manager, and Willow Creek member; Laura Knoerr, an assistant director; and Heather Lund, a make-up

Amateur radio club holds field day

The Metro Amateur Radio Club and North Shore Radio Club invite you to Amateur Radio Field Day, an annual emergency preparedness exercise to help promote the spirit of Amateur Radio, June 23 and 24. The event is open to the public at no charge.

The Field Day activities will be set up in the pavilion at Northcroft Park, 1365 S. Ridge in Lake Forest. The exercise runs 24 hours, from 1 p.m. on Saturday, June 23 to 1 p.m. on Sunday, June 24. Amateur radio operates on special bands on the HF (short wave) VHF and UHF bands. Operators will use many different types of radio communications, including voice, Morse code telegraphy and several advanced digital modes combining radio and computers.

The two local amateur radio clubs have members ranging in age from 12 to 95 and live on the Northside of Chicago and in its northern suburbs. They will be setting up portable radio stations using emergency power in a simulation to prepare for emergencies such as floods, tornadoes and other natural disasters where normal communications may be compromised. The object of this exercise is to test equipment and communication skills by contacting as many other "Amateur Field Day" stations as they can in a 24-hour period. Hundreds of similar stations will be participating around the country. "It was fun to talk to other people on some of the more elusive bands because there were so many other people out there trying to do the same," said Greg Stehling of the North Shore Radio Club and one of last year's event participants.

Find out more about the hobby of amateur radio. Information about will be available on how to become a licensed amateur radio operator. Come discover the exciting world of amateur radio. Bring your family and friends!

To acknowledge the important contribution amateur radio operators have made to the community, especially during natural disasters, Governor George H. Ryan has declared June as Amateur Radio Month. "We are very grateful to the Governor for recognizing ham radio - we are proud of what we can do for our community," stated Mike Dinelli, President of the MAC Radio Club.

Additional information and location map can be obtained by visiting the Metro Amateur Radio Club (MAC) website at <http://www.qsl.net/mac> or send e-mail to: daveW9LYA@juno.com or by calling 676-2341.

KIDS THEATER

Plays for children

The student activity office of the College of Lake County, in cooperation with Waukegan Park District's Bowen Park Theater Company and the City of Waukegan, will present three children's plays this summer at the Grayslake campus.

The plays are "Aladdin and the Magic Lamp" on June 28, "The Sword and the Stone" on July 12 and "The True Story of Cinderella" on Aug. 2. All performances will be held at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. in the C-Wing Auditorium, C005. Tickets are $3 each and advance ticket purchase is recommended. Group tickets available. Call 543-2300.

BENEFIT

Relay registration

Relay For Life of Grayslake, a team event to fight cancer, is taking registration for relay teams and asking for volunteers to help with the event. At Relay for Life, taking place on Aug. 5 & 6 at the College of Lake Co., the idea is to have fun while raising money to fight cancer and provide services to cancer patients and their families.

Team members seek donations, camp out, have fun with games, music, food, contests and more. For information or to register, call 432-0577.

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES

Visual taste of summer at the Festival of Fine Craft

Festival offers puppets, fine art, kids activities

Craving craft? Want the finest quality hand made sculpture or artwear? Feast your eyes on the finest craft this summer during the fourth annual Highland Park Festival of Fine Craft held Saturday and Sunday, June 23 and 24 in downtown Highland Park, Sheridan Rd. between Central Ave. and Park Ave. Running each day from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. the festival is free and open to the public and will showcase 130 craft artists from across the country.

Featured at noon on Saturday is Redmoon Puppet Theater in parade mode. Performers from Chicago's premiere puppet theater troop will be on stilts and in bright fabrics performing in and around the public for two hours.

This event supports the educational programs of the Suburban Fine Arts Center, a not-for-profit arts organization which has for 41 years provided art classes and exhibits for adults and children.

In keeping with the SFAC philosophy, the Festival also will feature hands-on art activities for kids performance art, and a variety of music and food.

This event is co-sponsored by Highland Park Chamber of Commerce and the Highland Park Cultural Arts Commission.

For more information, please call 432-1888.

Cardboard Akroyd, Belushi rekindles memories of Blues Brothers film

Look out! the Blues Brothers are back in town and they're at the Volo Auto Museum in an exhibit opening June 23.

The year was 1979. The place was Wauconda, just five or so miles south of Volo. The Highway: Rte. 12. The action: the Blues Brothers leading a police chase to Chicago. The extreme action: unforgettable police car crashes in Wauconda—cars crashing over an embankment off Hwy. 12. And most memorable—the airborne police car crashing through the side of a semi-trailer. Great fun and great music, too.

Jake and Elwood Blues—the Blues Brothers—were on a movie mission from God to save an orphanage, in a tired, old retired police car from Mount Prospect. To a dismayed Jake, fresh out of prison and riding in this police car, Elwood begs the question, "It's got a cop motor, a 440 cubic inch plant. It's got cop tires, cop suspension, cop shocks, it's a model made before catalytic converters so it'll run good on regular gas. Whatta say? Is it the new 'Bluesmobile' or what?"

This display features life-size figures of the Blues "Brothers"—Dan Akroyd and John Belushi. And the old, well worn, clapped out 1974 Dodge 440 police car full of treasured memories of the movie where scenes were filmed at Wauconda.

The Volo Auto Museum is located at 27582 W. Volo Village Rd. in Volo. Call (815) 385-3644 for additional information on this and other exhibits.

it out!

The "Bluesmobile" will be unveiled on Saturday, June 23 at the Volo Auto Museum. Celebrations will include music by The Affects, Tony Shemberger's 50s and 60s rock 'n roll band, playing hits all afternoon. Call (815) 385-3644 for information.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

Be friendly to an acquaintance whom you meet early in the week, Aries. He or she is nervous and needs someone to trust. Be there for him or her. A loved one asks a favor of you. While you want to help, don't. Getting involved only will cause you a lot of problems. Taurus plays a key role.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't be stubborn when dealing with close friends this week. Instead of just forcing your opinion on them, listen to what they have to say. If you pay attention, you'll see that what they're saying is not too different from your own point of view. Leo plays an important role late in the week.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

There's so much going on this week, you just don't know where to turn. Take time to organize your thoughts and prioritize your schedule. A close friend asks to borrow money. Try to help this person out, because you know that he or she is trustworthy.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Don't beat yourself up over a mistake that you make early in the week. Your error doesn't cause any major problems, and it is easily fixed. So, just correct the situation, and continue to work diligently. A loved one asks for your opinion about a personal matter. Be honest.

Leo - July 23/August 23

An acquaintance confides in you regarding a personal matter, Leo. Listen to what he or she has to say, and try to be supportive. Resist the urge to tell anyone else what you've learned. You have no right to spread this news around. The person whom you've been seeing has a surprise for you. Enjoy it!

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Don't worry about a presentation that you have to give this week. Those involved are eager to hear what you have to say. Just stay relaxed, and you'll do fine. That special someone takes you out for a night on the town. Enjoy yourself, you're sure to have a good time.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Don't let a problem at work get you down early in the week, Libra. Just continue to work diligently, and you will do well. Remember that this is just a job. Your personal life is more important. Spend time with loved ones and close friends this week. You're sure to enjoy yourself.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Try to control your ego this week. While you are talented, you're not the only person who can get things done. Share the spotlight with those who deserve it. A loved one gets angry at you for no apparent reason. Try to find out what is wrong, and help him or her deal with it. Your efforts will be appreciated.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

You really stick your foot in your mouth early in the week when talking with a business associate, Sagittarius. Instead of trying to come up with something witty to say to ease the situation, just explain yourself.

This will make you look much better. Pisces plays a key role.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Try not to be too harsh with a loved one who gets into trouble. He or she has good intentions; they just backfire. Keep this in mind when talking with him or her. An old friend calls you out of the blue late in the week. Make plans to see him or her. You're sure to learn quite a bit of interesting information.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Don't let a business associate force you to do something that you don't agree with. Stand your ground. The higher-ups will be on your side. The person whom you've been seeing stops calling. While you're upset, try to realize that this is for the best. He/she isn't the one for you.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

You have a lot to do this week, Pisces. So, don't let your friends distract you from getting things accomplished. Several people are counting on you. Don't let them down. Sagittarius plays an important role.

It's a new herbal world today, where herbs are used for purposes outside the kitchen. Aromatherapy or afternoon tea; the common cold or a clear complexion; menopause or prostate – they all lay claim to the healing properties of herbs. Herbs are steeped in history and lore and were often the first plants cottagers grew because of their medicinal properties. Gardeners grow herbs for their own reasons too, and many of them have nothing to do with tonight's dinner.

Fragrance in flowers and foliage. How many garden plants provide all this. Flowering herbs attract valuable pollinators to the garden and many produce essential oils that repel damaging insects. You can grow herbs too. Whether you grow them for their ornamental, curative or culinary properties.

Herbs belong in all gardens, from mixed borders to mini-windowsills. Try some of the easy-to-grow herbs to spice up your garden and your dinner.

- Parsley, flat-leaved or extra curly, is a delicious, nutritious annual herb that looks beautiful in the garden. Harvest the outer leaves all summer but allow the central stalk to continue growing.

- Sage is a popular perennial, shrubby herb with gray, textured leaves. Be sure to try some of the more unusual, highly fragrant varieties like tricolor sage with cream, purple and green leaves or pineapple sage with yellow variegation on its green leaves. Sage prefers full sun and well-drained soil. Harvest individual leaves all season long or dry sprigs for dried arrangements.

- Rosemary, "the dew of the sea" is grown for its pine-scented foliage and the lovely blue flowers that attract bees. True to its Mediterranean origin, rosemary must have full sun, excellent drainage with no fertilizer or overhead watering. Pinch off tips as it grows to encourage a shrubby habit. Harvest individual needles all season for outstanding flavoring. Some gardeners have luck over wintering rosemary plants in cactus soil with bright light and high humidity.

- Cilantro, so essential to Mexican, Spanish, Indian, Thai and Chinese cuisine, is grown for its flat, highly divided foliage (sold as Chinese parsley or coriander) or its round seed-heads that are crushed to make powdered coriander. Grow in full sun with moist soil. Best results come from successive planting. If growing for foliage, cut out the thick main stem as soon as it develops since this stem will flower and produce seeds. Harvest individual leaves from the top and discard older feathery foliage. Grows rapidly in hot weather.

Why grow herbs? Flavor, fragrance and foliage...and, of course, food!—by Lee Randhava

'Bread for breakfast' and then some

When it comes to bread, Beth Hensperger knows whereof she speaks—or writes. She has penned 11 books on the subject, including her newest, Bread for Breakfast (10 Speed Press, 2001, 158 pages).

It's a dandy, with 70 different recipes, from simple muffins and scones to weekend brunch-type peanut butter waffles, brioche and coffee cake, including a rich Rhubarb Coffee Cake nicely complemented by a fresh strawberry coulis. With this special treat to look forward to and a cup of coffee, mornings couldn't get much better.

Hensperger covers a lot of ground in a short space, from German puff pancakes to Italian popovers to Hungarian poppyseed rolls. She even includes some sugar-free muffins and devotes a chapter to homemade butters, jams, fruit and cheese spreads—all with easy-to-follow instructions.

Strawberry coulis

2 pint baskets of whole strawberries, washed and hulled or 3 cups frozen unsweetened strawberries

3 Tbl. freshly squeezed lemon juice
2 Tbl. sugar or to taste
1 tsp. pure vanilla extract

Place the strawberries in a large bowl and sprinkle with the lemon juice and sugar. Let stand at least 1 hour to macerate. If the berries are frozen, just let them sit until they defrost. Place the fruit in a food processor fitted with the metal blade, add the vanilla and process until smooth. Pour into a storage container or a glass pitcher with a lid. Store in the refrigerator until serving. Serve chilled.

Rhubarb Coffee Cake

Spiced nut crumb topping

1/4 cup light or dark brown sugar
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/4 cup unbleached all-purpose flour
1-1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon

1/4 tsp. ground allspice
6 Tbl. cold unsalted butter, cut into pieces
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Coffee cake

8 Tbl. unsalted butter, at room temperature
1/2 cup light or dark brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 large eggs

1-1/2 tsp. pure vanilla extract
2 cup unbleached all-purpose flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda

1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup cultured buttermilk
1/2 pound fresh or frozen rhubarb, finely chopped to make 2 cups

1. Preheat the oven to 350°. Line the bottom of a 10-inch springform pan with parchment paper and grease the sides.
2. To make the crumb topping, combine the brown and white sugars, flour, cinnamon and allspice in a small bowl or in the bowl of a food processor fitted with the metal blade. Cut in the butter with your fingers, or process just until the mixture forms coarse crumbs. Add the walnuts and set aside.
3. To make the coffee cake, in the work bowl of a heavy-duty electric mixer, cream the butter and sugars on low speed until light and fluffy, about 1 minute. Add the eggs and vanilla extract and beat until smooth. In another bowl, combine the flour, baking powder, baking soda, apple pie spice and salt. Add to the creamed mixture alternately with the buttermilk. Beat on medium-high speed until the batter has a creamy consistency, about 1 minute. Stir in the rhubarb.
4. Using a rubber spatula, scrape batter into prepared pan. Sprinkle evenly with the crumb topping. Bake on the center rack of the oven for about 40 to 45 minutes, or until a cake tester inserted into the center comes out clean. Remove from the oven and cool in the pan on a rack. To serve, remove the sides of the springform pan and cut into wedges.

'Memento' provides bizarre backward journey

Joe Pantoliano and Guy Pearce try to find a killer in the film "Memento."

Going into its third week in wide release, the Sundance acclaimed film "Memento" has been landing in the top 10 consistently since it opened in March.

This independent sleeper, directed by Christopher Nolan, is derived from a short story written by Nolan's brother Jonathan.

The film stars Guy Pearce, the Australian-born actor whose most notable roles include "Pricilla, Queen of the Desert" and "L.A. Confidential." Hype and buzz surrounded Pearce after his role in "Confidential," but he wasn't able to land anything significant following that role up with parts in "Ravenous" and "Rules of Engagement."

Co-starring is Carrie-Anne Moss, who is most recognized from her part in "The Matrix" and "Red Planet" and Joe Pantoliano who has played a number of bit parts and should be easily recognized by "Sopranos" fans as Ralphie.

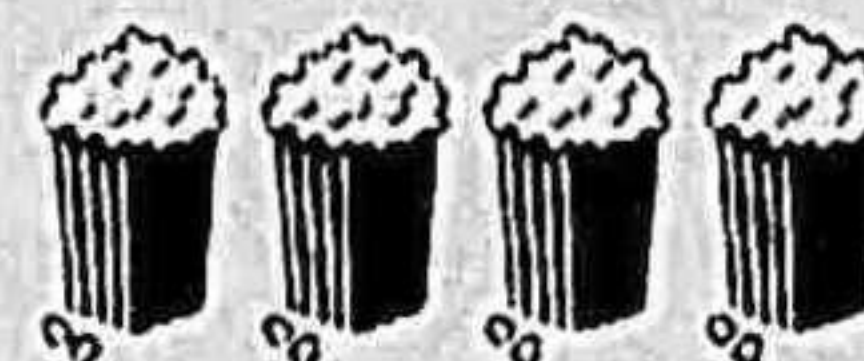

The film starts out with a shock. Pearce's character Leonard is holding a photograph of a man who has been violently murdered. We immediately learn that it is Pantoliano's character Teddy who has been shot and that Lenny is the one that did the shooting.

We learn that Lenny's wife was raped and murdered, but when, we are not certain. During his efforts to save his wife, Lenny is hit over the head and he loses his short-term memory. He is able to remember everything up to the time he is hit in the head, but cannot save any new information in his brain.

The entire tale is told backwards, starting with the shooting of the character of Teddy, then slides backwards in short increments to explain what led up to that event.

In order to find his wife's killer, Lenny works from the police file and puts together a sophisticated notation system to remind himself of the facts that he has gathered. This includes Polaroids of people he meets and the things that are most important, he tattoos on his body.

As we watch the film, we develop a painful sympathy for Lenny's "condition" as he calls it. People make jokes at his expense when they realize he won't remember that they've made them. In one scene, Lenny is sitting in a hotel bathroom, holding a bottle of alcohol. Not remembering why he is there, he looks at the bottle and says to himself "I don't feel drunk."

No one and nothing is as it seems here.

I can't go into much of the plot without giving too much away. You definitely have to catch this movie from the beginning, because losing even two minutes will leave you wondering "what's going on here?" A second viewing is also recommended.

The movie moves flawlessly through the plot, but unlike thrillers like "The Sixth Sense," you find yourself noticing holes when you put the pieces back together.

Anyone who enjoys an "artsy" film will no doubt enjoy this. The buzz around the film is merited and there definitely will be Oscar talk revolving around Pearce for "Best Actor."

Dance scholarship competition announced

The 21st annual Carey Rose Winski Dance Scholarship Competition will be held this year on Sunday, October 14 at 11 a.m. in the Marjorie Ward Marshall Dance Center, 1979 S. Campus Drive in Evanston. The competition is open to any dancer male or female in the United States between the ages of 13 and 18. Scholarships totaling $1500 are given to the winners. The winners choose the schools for their further training.

Scholarships have also been given by the Gus Giordano Dance Center and the Joffrey Ballet of Chicago.

Competitors participate in a one-hour classical warm up class and perform two three-minute solos, one in classical ballet (en pointe for girls) and one in eclectic style—Jazz, Modern, Character, etc.

Judges for this year's competition are well-known international dance critic Ann Barzel, International Dance Jazz Master Gus Giordano, Mark Goldwebber, Ballet Master of The Joffrey Ballet of Chicago, and Randy Duncan, critically acclaimed choreographer.

This competition is in memory of Carey Rose Winski, who lived and received her dance training in Michigan City, Ind. She was 17 years old at the time of her death in 1980. The Carey Rose Winski Memorial Foundation was formed to perpetuate Carey's memory and her love of dance.

Application forms with detailed information on rules, regulations and travel information may be obtained by writing to the Carey Rose Winski Memorial Foundation, Inc., 69 Woodley Rd, Winnetka, IL 60093.

Scene set for 'Murder'

A blundering used-car salesman, an ordinary dentist and a middle-aged "femme fatale" get entangled in a love triangle and murder in the light and funny suspenseful "Murder at the Howard Johnson's," opening Friday, June 22 at the Attic Playhouse in Highwood.

The play takes place in a Howard Johnson's hotel room somewhere in America, over the span of a year. Meet the character Arlene Miller, a middle-aged "Femme Fatale" of sorts, as she and her lover, Mitchell Lovell, a common place dentist who sees himself as the dashing heroic type, plan to murder her husband Paul Miller, a used-car salesman. The love-triangle and murder plots change constantly as this hilarious farce continues.

See the production on Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 3 p.m. from June 22 through July 22. Tickets are $14 in advance and $15 at the door. Special discounts are given to seniors, students with ID, military personnel and groups. Dinner packages are available for $29 with the Two Guys from Italy restaurant, located in the same building as the theater.

The Attic Playhouse is located at 410 Sheridan Rd. in Highwood. For information or tickets, call 433-2660.

Lane Wheeler as Mitchell Lovell, Scott Hansfield as Paul Miller and Sally Paulis Beck as Arlene Miller in "Murder at the Howard Johnson's," at the Attic Playhouse June 22-July 22. Call 433-2660 for tickets.

LOVE IT

Whether one is attracted to the round, full belly of a teddy bear or a pair of deep, dark loving eyes, the desire to own the cutest, fuzziest, chubbiest or curliest teddy has lead to a steep rise in the number of artists making these special bears. With that, there has been a logical increase in the number and styles of bears available.

Rizzo's store prides itself in stocking hard to find collector teddies (and dolls), and has worked since its opening two years ago to foster a special relationship with the artists that make these bears, particularly those with local ties. Even with the greater availability of hand-made bears, a growing number of collectors and fanciers want a bear with personal touches they've added themselves.

As part of her service to customers, Rizzo's store becomes a classroom for those who want to learn the secret to well set eyes, a solid nose and a charming smile several weeks a year. With a small class size of about six local artists such as Cindy Kalnow, Jo Martenson and Sue VanDyke have filled a half dozen or so classes scheduled for the summer and fall.

Classes run from early in the morning throughout the day. The cost of the classes varies some, but for about $90 (one-half the cost or less than it would be to purchase a bear of similar size and creation made by the artists). Participants are supplied with a kit that includes the materials necessary to make their own bears: imported mohair with the pattern drawn on the back side of the fabric, German glass eyes, thread, and directions. On the day of the class, the artist turned teacher provides invaluable instructions and encouragement. Depending on the class, homework such as pre-sewing as much of the bear as possible may be necessary. Pre-sewn kits are available by some of the artists so those without a lot of needlework experience can successfully make a bear.

The first lesson one learns is that the cost of a store bought custom teddy bears is a bargain when taking into account the dozen hours it takes to cut the fabric without ruining the fur and sewing the pieces with strong well-hidden seams; the 5-8 hours it takes to stuff, create the face and assemble the bear during the class; and the cost of the imported mohair that can run better than $100 per yard depending on length, curl and color.

If there is concern over one's own sewing ability, one should ask questions about the difficulty of the pattern and the skill level required, or should consider attending a class where pre-sewn kits are available. The stitches required to make the face and assemble the teddies are fairly simple with the guidance of a professional.

Teddy Bear classes are geared more to adult collectors. This, however, does not mean that children aren't able to make their own bears and add their own touches in a manner more fitting for their needs.

Build-A-Bear Workshops has a new store located at the Hawthorn Mall in Vernon Hills. Here, children can pick a bear (or a number of other animals) that is stitched with its face complete that is ready for stuffing and designing with accessories at a cost of about $10 and up. Samples of finished animals are displayed throughout the store so one doesn't have to

Bear builders are instructed to choose a silk heart and then to make a wish and kiss the heart before inserting to the slot left open for filling. A computer bar code is also placed inside the bear so the owner can be located if the animal is lost and returned to any Build-A-Bear Workshop.

A huge machine fluffs the stuffing and blows it into the shell when the bear maker steps on the foot peddle. Store employees close the back of the animals. The bear builders are then sent to a brushing and fluffing station, and from there can select any of the hundreds of dresses, shorts, shirts, hats, pants, pins, glasses, shoes and the like to indi-vidualize their pets. The cost of the accessories runs from $1-$10.

Before going to the checkout, the children (and/or adults) go to a computer station to fill out some personal information (to track the animal if it's lost), give their pets names and request either a birth certificates or a stories about their animals. The stories and birth certificates are printed and presented at checkout.

Kalnow has expressed what some many collectors feel when she said, "The teddy has crossed the line into home accent for the living room, the mantle, the library and the family room. They settle nicely, giving every room a warmth and personality no other accent or pillow could give."

Parkside to offer courses at Lakehurst

In what is regarded as a breakthrough for advancing higher education at University Station, Lakehurst shopping center, the University of Wisconsin-Parkside will offer courses beginning this fall.

John P. Keating, UW-Parkside chancellor, said this is the first instance in the University of Wisconsin system where courses are being offered in another state.

Martin Tuohy, the Libertyville resident who sees availability of higher education courses at University Station as key to revitalizing the former shopping center, was elated at the UW-Parkside decision.

Tuohy pointed out that the Wisconsin institution provides affordable higher education to Lake County residents. Parkside offers courses to Lake County residents at the same tuition rate as Illinois residents.

The University of Wisconsin-Parkside will join the Illinois Institute of Technology and National-Louis University, both of which currently offer courses at University Station's temporary facility at Greenleaf Professional Campus on Greenleaf Ave. north of the site of Lakehurst Shopping Center. Each institution plans to increase the number of programs and courses offered in the future.

Keating

Chancellor Keating stated in a letter to Tuohy, "We look forward to participating in this educational opportunity for communities surrounding University Station." Chancellor Keating added, "We are particularly interested in a presence because of the prospect of being involved in a 'total learning community' concept outlined in your long-range plan."

More than 22,000 Wisconsin residents commute each day to work in Lake County. "We will serve our residents close to where they work in an accessible location," said Keating, noting that more than 400 UW-Parkside graduates are employed by one pharmaceutical company in Lake County. One of the University of Wisconsin-Parkside's strong programs is biomedical research.

Tuohy hopes to develop a more than 100-acre "smart growth" community called University Station that will include higher education on the Lakehurst site. The mixed-use development will also include office, residential, and retail components. The development of a Metra and Amtrak station on the site is being studied.

4-H members gear up for Lake County Fair

What do horsemanship, cake decorating, and woodworking have in common? They are among the dozens of projects Lake County 4-H members are putting the finishing touches on, before exhibiting at this year's fair.

Hundreds of 4-Hers, ages 8-18, from more than a dozen community clubs throughout Lake County signed up for projects last fall. The list of categories they chose from included visual arts, home economics, communications, small animals, livestock, natural resources and technology.

4-H members worked on projects in a variety of ways. Individually, with the help of their parents or leader, 4-Hers planned their goals and listed the resources needed, along with an anticipated timeline of project areas to be covered during the year. As a group, club project leaders guided and instructed the members. If there were many members in one club enrolled in the same project, the club may have devoted special meetings to working on that partic-

New UCLC dean to start Aug. 1

New director of the University Center of Lake County will be able to be involved in planning buildings and the campus for the 14-acre site adjacent to the College of Lake County's main campus.

G. Gary Grace, 52, will be working with the UCLC board on design as he gets familiar with his new job that will pay $120,000.

Grace's title will be executive director/dean for the consortium of 12 public and private universities participating in the "multi-versity" facility costing $11.9 million to build.

CLC donated land for the site. Construction will take approximately 15 months.

Grace, who is leaving a post as vice chancellor for student affairs at the University of Missouri-St. Louis officially assumes his new duties Aug. 1.

He was chosen after a nationwide search. Grace has Illinois ties, having spent part of his youth in down state Decatur.

New look promised for Chain landmark

Successful Chicago restaurateur opens second location in county

One of Chicago's largest food and beverage companies is transporting its unique brand of success to Lake County and the Chain O' Lakes.

Ala Carte Entertainment, operating at 29 locations in Chicago and throughout the suburbs, has acquired Sabatini's/Frigate, a dining and entertainment fixture on Long Lake for more than 50 years.

Owner Freddie Hoffman opened at the new location with a block party for neighbors, treating them to food and drink and inviting their suggestions on what they would like to see offered at the location on Rollins Rd. between Fox Lake and the Round Lake area.

"We want to get open and get a feel for the market," declared Hoffman, a hard-driving entrepreneur who got started in the restaurant business as a 25-year-old chef.

Today, Hoffman, and his son, Mark, who serves as vice president, oversees a diverse enterprise that serves the full range of public tastes from fine dining, to trendy restaurants and sports bars catering to young people.

Joe Sabatini, a member of the founding family that transformed a picnic grove and boat launch into one of Lake County's finest Italian restaurants after World War II, will remain as a consultant during a transition period.

Hoffman said a new name and a new menu will be unveiled July 4 weekend. Extensive remodeling and new fixtures are being installed to provide facilities for private parties and banquets in addition to expanding a sports bar atmosphere.

County diners and fun seekers were first treated to Hoffman's style when he converted a long-time Fox Lake resort to Famous Freddie's a year ago. The place features inexpensive food, a broad range of beverages and loud, DJ music, just what a younger crowd wants.

Hoffman acknowledged that Famous Freddie's, while popular with patrons, has encountered public relations problems with neighbors. "We're a victim of success," he adds with a grin.

"Long Lake isn't going to be another Famous Freddie's," Hoffman added quickly. He said the Ala Carte management team is approaching a transformation "with an open book."

The owner confirmed that a shuttle service will be operated between the two places to "capitalize on the synergy" generated by both Famous Freddie's and the Long Lake location.

The survey pointed to a two-to-one preference for dancing. Many respondents indicated a desire to have full service dining. There was appeal for a resort-lodge theme, according to Hoffman.

Ala Carte Entertainment employs between 2,000 and 3,000 persons, depending on seasonal needs. Mark Hoffman manages an in-house construction company engaged in building upgrades, updating properties and redoing what are described as "under performing locations."

The company maintains corporate offices in Edison Park on Chicago's northwest side.

"We've enjoyed 31 years of success. Never had a failure," Hoffman declared.

The personable business executive side-stepped a comparison with the famous Lettuce Entertain You restaurant group. "They're a different kind of company. First of all, many partners. We're an independent," Hoffman emphasized.

Hoffman is no stranger to the Chain. He and his family have been residents of Stanton Point, Fox Lake, for many years.

Catholic Charities seeking foster care, adoption

Catholic Charities Lake County Services-Family Services Department is offering a FREE "101 Ways To Praise Your Child" magnet to all those who call to inquire or have an interest about foster care or adoption in the month of July. The magnet is a wonderful visual reminder encouraging families to communicate in positive terms, enhance self-esteem, and encourage a healthy self image in children.

To learn more about the opportunities foster parenting provides, mark your calendar for the next informational meetings on July 11 at St. Patrick Catholic Church (15000 W. Wadsworth Rd.) and July 19 at 7 p.m. at Catholic Charities Lake County Services (671 S. Lewis Ave., Waukegan.)

Catholic Charities welcome all families and individuals regardless of religious, racial or ethnic backgrounds. To register for the informational meeting, or to receive further information regarding additional programs sponsored by Catholic Charities, call 782-4200. Se habla español, 782-4241.

Bullet trap unveiling to mark dedication

Featuring a revolutionary new bullet trap, the Lake County Sheriff's office Firearms Training facility range will be dedicated at 11 a.m., Monday, June 25.

Sheriff Gary Del Re said opening day activity also will include a six-hour competition shooting event for law enforcement officers. Competition will continue June 26, 27 and 28.

The bullet trap and retrieval system is considered a nationwide first.

Grand opening will be followed by a barbecue for guests including law officers, political leaders and members of the press.

The Sheriff said that vast technological improvements to the previous facility, located at 15900 Russell Rd., Russell, east of Interstate 94, make the range a "state of the art" facility.

These improvements, in conjunction with the observance of strict range safety discipline, were designed to enhance the overall efficiency and safety of the facility. Key features of the newly improved site include the installation of an advanced bullet trap/retrieval system, drainage and electrical systems, and the capacity for the use of multiple target systems.

Hacking budget not always bad

More or less, there isn't a school district that we're aware of that doesn't cope with budget problems this time of year. Preparations are being made for the new school year beginning in fall. For some districts, it's "hack and slash." Others, with somewhat less financial pressure, are pruning and stretching. But everyone in education is watching dollars—and counting pennies.

Alas, favorite programs are bound to be pinched or resized. Tough decisions being made by school board officials and educators are bound to step on some toes or gore some favorite oxes.

This may be the perfect environment to talk up educational basics and the need to focus on core responsibilities. Put more money into the classrooms. Make sure faculty salary needs are met, responsibly, of course. Explain to students, parents and the community what priorities are. In this environment, the lacrosse team and some after-school extra-curricular activities might come up short. That's life!

Back-to-basics advocates and hard-nosed taxpayers aren't going to argue about budget trimming. Chances are many teachers will be relieved to know that they can spend their time in the classroom teaching core subjects rather than chasing the latest social initiative or teaching fad.

In politically correct times and reliance on public schools to cure all of society's social ills, concentrating more on education might come as a novel notion. But it's time. And it fits better with the budget.

Moving clinic not wise move

If they would have done their homework, Lake County Health Dept. officials should have known they would run into a hornet's nest of opposition relocating a clinic serving the Round Lake area to a larger building in the vicinity of the Libertyville-Mundelein area.

Located in an unpretentious frame building, the clinic has a remarkable record of success, mostly because it was doing exactly what the facility was designed for, serving the primary care needs of a community with a rapidly growing minority population that is medically underserved.

County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad (R-Highland Lake), Avon Supervisor Russell Christian and all the Round Lake area mayors feel the Health Dept. is making a mistake, even when plans to improve service are well intended. Young mothers and their children not only rely on Mid-Lakes Health Clinic, but Hispanic families have built up a strong attachment to the facility, looking on the 3,400 square foot building "as their own." Nothing wrong with that.

The Health Dept. should look either for larger space in the Round Lake area or leave Mid-Lakes as is. Establish another clinic in the central part of the county to serve growing needs of minority families, if that's the case. Serving people first ought to be the priority, not satisfying some bureaucratic whim.

Abbott displays caring attitude

With the opening of a new on-site child care center at Abbott Park, Abbott Laboratories continues to display leadership with a cutting-edge attitude not only toward its core business, but also employee relations.

The new facility is the largest child care center in Illinois and one of the five largest in the country. With 46,000 square feet, sufficient space for a good-size industrial facility, the center is licensed to serve 400 children. The care program and features being offered sounds like a model—including will be a 210 gallon aquarium, art and science studio, reading library, living labyrinth (maze) and age-appropriate discovery activities.

"Discovery" is the watchword for Abbott day care. Clearly, the center is more, much more than a drop off, custodial-type facility. Children will be challenged and educated besides being fed and supervised.

Once again, Abbott is showing the way for innovation, leadership and excellence.

VIEWPOINT

Type-cast player has a 'moment'

Unless my big moment in motion pictures lands on the cutting room floor, I'll be a one line extra in a movie to be seen this fall or later at a church near you.

The full length film is "The Calling," written and directed by Michael Brown, a multi-talented movie and video creator who understands the magnitude of the market for Christian, inspirational films. I didn't know, but the market is huge. There's a good chance "The Calling" will be seen by more persons than the typical Hollywood B class grinder. Christian films are staples for religious cable channels and churches.

The story line takes a pastor traveling cross country to byways of American life, including a community weekly newspaper office. That's where Lakeland Newspapers and your columnist got involved.

Operating out of a studio and headquarters in Wauconda, Brown is an expert story teller who knows how to stretch every dollar he can scrape up for his film business. "The Calling" features five professional actors, a flock of extras recruited from ranks of church goers in and around the Wauconda-Barrington area and a few handy on-lookers (like this writer) who are pressed into duty with a promise that "we might need you."

Army experience came in handy. As Brown explained, "A film shoot is a lot of 'Hurry up and wait.'" Just like basic training. Brown and his staff know exactly what they're doing. The extras and volunteer players mostly looked on the hustle and bustle with amusement and amazement.

I can guarantee the newspaper office scenes are authentic, down to the empty pop cans, paper-stacked desks and map and memo covered walls. Michael was thrilled to find the Lakeland Media editorial office in its usual state of disarray. That and the fact that he had to haul a truck load of equipment only a few miles made Lakeland an ideal location. "The Calling" will feature all familiar area location scenes from towns like Woodstock, Crystal Lake and Mt. Prospect.

Watching a film crew is interesting if not fascinating. There really are shouts like "Quiet on the set." Every take and retake, the director has to intone, "Ready to roll....rolling." Brown inspired his actors with a standard compliment, "You nailed it." All those phrases should be familiar to movie buffs. This writer's involvement was part of what's called "atmosphere" footage, scenes spliced in to create realism. Brown needed one more shot depicting Casey, the girl reporter and a principal player, scurrying to her desk past a line of reporters hunched over their computers. "Hand this stack of papers to Casey and say, 'Casey, this is for you.' Can you do that?" Brown inquired, looking at me. Hey, Mr. Director. Piece of cake.

Next sound is Casey's platform heels clicking in my direction. "We're rolling," Brown called out. "Casey, this is for you," bored reporter exclaims, handing over papers. Casey grabs papers and heads to her desk. "Cut," the director shouts.

"We nailed it!" Brown calls out. Extras, crew members and onlookers break out in applause.

I knew the applause wasn't for my sterling, error-free performance. The director already had announced that the paper hand-off scene with the bored reporter and Casey would be the last take of a long, hard work day. Single take, too, by the way.

Main St. models

Rob and Nancy DuPont are working hard to get their new business, Park Street restaurant, established. They're also role models for entrepreneurs taking their chances that main street is the place to achieve success. The DuPonts are doing business on Park St., Mundelein, at a location that housed a family run jewelry store for 50 years. Nancy has a background in restaurant management. Rob's business experience is in sales. Park Street appeals to upscale diners who enjoy an intimate setting.

OMundelein's MainStreet organization hails the DuPonts as business leaders of both the present and the future.

Guv on the way

State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) has booked Gov. George

Ryan to address a quarterly meeting of her support group, the Legislative Breakfast Club, at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, July 10, at the Byron Colby Barn at Prairie Crossing, Grayslake. Last time Ryan was at Prairie Crossing two years ago he got stuck in traffic due to congestion at Rtes. 45 and 120. Five months later, like magic, the Illinois Dept. of Transportation had a total reconstruction project going to eliminate gridlock. Really, not magic. Just orders from headquarters. What's our guy got up his sleeve this time?

Minding the evidence

There is evidence of local history all around. The Historical Society of the Fort Hill Country with members in central and west Lake County made note of donations: glass pint milk bottled dated 1-11-14 from Rouse Bros. Dairy, Area, IL (Mundelein), cherry pitter, curtain stretcher, vintage outdoor thermometer. A pitter was a hand-held gadget to remove stones from cherries. The curtain stretcher was employed to insure that freshly washed curtains wouldn't shrink. Those were household staples 75 to 100 years ago that now are museum curiosities.

Popular politician

A survey showed that U.S. Sen. Peter Fitzgerald is the most popular political figure in Illinois. Considering the Fitzgerald is a conservative who thinks independently, the survey results say a lot.

Straightening out

Forest Preserve President Al Westerman had Director Steve Messerli in the woodshed, we're told, to set the record straight on who's setting policy and making spending decisions. Basically, it isn't the hired help, at least not anymore. Messerli had a freer hand under Westerman's predecessor, Carol Calabrese. Forest Preserve commissioners want more accountability on the rehabilitation of the Ft. Sheridan golf course, the county's newest links layout.

More space

Lemont Township in Chicago's far southwestern suburbs has an open space district, it was brought to this column's attention. Citizens there voted $10 million to protect land in the heavily industrialized area. Township open space districts are back in the news with the movement to form a district in Fremont Township (rural Mundelein).

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Bauer expands agenda for Municipal League

The Lake County Municipal League has an "always on the job" new president, Round Lake Park Mayor Ila Bauer.

A retired educator, Bauer considers her elective position full-time, although she is paid a stipend on the basis of part-time. She plans on devoting as much time as possible to the business of the League, an intergovernmental organization.

Bauer aims to increase attention to school funding reform as it relates to cities and village, review conservation opportunities and expand education on development. Sounds like the "meet and eat" sessions will be superseded.

Other new League officers for 2001-2002 include: Vice-president, Mayor Barbara LaPlana, Lincolnshire; Secretary, Mayor Roger Byrne, Vernon Hills; Treasurer, Mayor Duane Laake, Libertyville; Sgt.-at-Arms, President Thomas Adams, Green Oaks.

Still looking

Last time Party Lines checked, the Village of Third Lake still was looking to fill a vacancy on the board of trustees. An opening resulted when Jim Rogers and Ron DeMay were the only candidates filing for three openings in the spring election. Mayor Donna Golchert

Bauer:
Aims to increase league members learning roles.

LaPlana:
At war with IDOT over Rte. 22 plans.

O'Kelly:
Less grumbling over remap suits her fine.

home or a shorter commute for the new director/dean of the University Center of Lake County (UCLC). For the past four years G. Gary Grace has been commuting from a home in Racine, Wis., to a job in St. Louis. Grace and his wife, the former Claudia Alleman of Waukegan, and their son, Geoffrey, 12, are considering the option of moving to Lake County. Grace's new office will be located in Grayslake where the new UCLC campus is being built.

Redistricting fair

County Board Rep. Diana O'Kelly (R-Fremont) is happy to see that grumbling is subsiding about the new county remap. As chair of the redistricting process, O'Kelly was the brunt of criticism, most of it coming from North Shore sources. O'Kelly says the process was fair and followed the law. County Board Rep. John Schullen (R-Libertyville) tried to delay the remap process, providing more public input before the July 1 deadline.

Able campaigners

The two young children of Lt. Gov. Corinne Wood are proving to be able campaigners, often alighting from their mom's Winnebago tour vehicle and starting pumping hands of newcomers. This is Wood's third annual summer tour of the state. She visited Libertyville, Mundelein and Waukegan among nine stops in northern Illinois. "The kids weren't sure at first. Now they love the tour, the Lake Forest resident declared.

has issued a call for volunteers. The post pays $20 per two meetings with three meetings per month.

Ryan on the way

Members of the 62nd Dist. Legislative round table, a support group for State Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch), will hear a talk July 12, at Midlane Country Club, Wadsworth, by Atty. Gen. Jim Ryan.

Battling IDOT

Lincolnshire's war with the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT) goes on. Mayor Barbara LaPlana said IDOT's plan to forego federal money for Rte. 22 widening and improvements is in retaliation for Lincolnshire's not approving state plans. IDOT contends federal support will extend construction beyond plans for 2003.

Keep buying land

Consider the beneficial effect of the purchases of land by the Lake County Forest Preserve District. Not only for their effect in helping preserve clean air and water, but also in putting a brake on an increase in population of Lake County.

The Forest Preserve will soon have acquired 4,600 acres of undeveloped land since 1993; some wooded and some wetland that helps preserve the quality of water in our streams and rivers. Assume that 80 percent of this land would be buildable and developed with four houses per acre. This would have accommodated 14,720 houses and at two adults per house 29,440 people. This doesn't include the unknown number of children.

If this land was built on and developed, the impact on our schools, already bursting at the seams, would be disastrous. the consequences, if this land was developed, on our already traffic clogged highways is immeasurable. Not easily quantified is the effect of Forest Preserve purchases in helping preserve the quality of life in Lake County.

The last Forest Preserve referendum raised our taxes by an average of $3 a month and I see it as money well spent and hope they will do more to help us preserve our natural heritage. Their action will help reduce the tax burden in future years. For the initiative and vision of the Forest Preserve, I give thanks.

It costs us less to buy Forest Preserve land than to build schools.

Misplaced trust

Trouble is apathy. Trouble is when a town like Wauconda has become comfortable and the citizens complacent trusting to soothing, manipulative assurances that all is wonderful and they need not fear or worry or fret, their best interests are being met.

And the "ole boy" syndrome kicks in closing ranks against the outsiders making trouble and they gather strength in their denial of the advancing calamity they have been told to ignore.

Until citizens of Wauconda fling aside their trust in the "ole boys" and the reigning hierarchy and actively participate and take charge of their community, they will lose their comfortable town.

Slowly, imperceptibility like cancerous growth, eating away the heart of the community, your quality of life will erode. Don't believe a little development here and a little there will not add up to big time school enrollment 5-10 years down the road.

Don't think that land to the north of town, that developers want to make the most of-will not impact your town. The insidious effects of unscrutinized development will finally become manifest-but perhaps too late. So many neighboring towns have gone by the wayside, lost forever. Their town officials, their protectors, too eager to embrace developers, ignoring their citizens, regulations and STANDARDS ALIKE, selling their town cheap.

Extreme weather

I attended an Extreme Weather Seminar conducted by Tom Skilling the WGN weatherman.

Extreme weather was described as having three categories, tornadoes, lightning, and wind and hail storms. Experts from the U.S. Government Doppler Radar facility in Oklahoma outlined how weather conditions were tracked throughout the country. Dr. Mary Ann Cooper (University of Illinois) gave an outstanding presentation describing victims of lightning strikes and the lasting damage the survivors sustain.

The presence of lightning is most serious because it is unpredictable. Sports events should be halted and fields cleared at the first notice of lightning, even if there is no rain. Videos and slides vividly showed the destruction caused by tornadoes as cars were hurled through the air and buildings leveled.

The seminar stressed that warnings are usually given two hours before a tornado hits. However few people take these warnings seriously until it is too late. I'm sure most of us have ignored these warnings. The thinking is that it never hit here before.

The seminar is free and is held each year at the Fermilab in Batavia.

Class of 2019 graduates preschool

Graduation season was a huge hit again this year. President Bush (Junior) gave the commencement address at his alma mater, Yale University in Connecticut.

Sweet Grass County High School in Big Timber, Mont., landed as its commencement speaker NBC news anchor Tom Brokaw.

One of the most popular speakers every year, Bill Cosby, went to the University of Cincinnati where all 12,000 tickets were snapped up—a sell-out crowd.

Chelsea Clinton graduated from Stanford University in California with her parents waving and blowing kisses from the stands.

But the big graduation event for our family happened right here in Antioch, at the Camp Crayon preschool where 4-year-old grandson Zachary was among a couple dozen precious and precocious tots participating.

Education has come a long way, baby. Imagine, 4-year-olds, the college class of 2019, doing the pomp and circumstance thing, getting ready for the BIG SCHOOL, kindergarten.

Studies show the years from birth to 5 are crucial in giving a child a head start educationally. The brain goes through an enormous growth spurt and learning things such as language and math happen easily and swiftly.

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

The preschool program staged by the village parks and recreation department didn't attract the president, or the likes of Brokaw and Cosby, but there was a sizable crowd of parents, and especially grandparents—some of them puddling up a bit as their adorable little offspring went through their paces.

It is said one thing a person never throws away is his or her high-school yearbook. I still have mine and when President Gerald Ford moved into the White House in 1974 he was seen carrying his.

The Camp Crayon kids have the equivalent, a 20-page Memory Book with lots of pictures of classmates in various activities.

In the book Zachary is quoted as saying he wants to become a doctor. I don't think that was his idea. I'm pretty sure he's going to pitch for the Cubs, or replace Tiger Woods as the world's best golfer.

'Celebrate Life' ceremony plants trees in honor of patients'

At Cancer Treatment Centers of America at Midwestern Regional Medical Center in Zion, it has been a practice to plant a tree celebrating survivorship in a patient's fight against cancer. When the battle is won and lives are saved, a tribute takes root. The ceremony is entitled Celebrate Life, which triumphs a patient's five-year survival over cancer.

This year, trees will be planted to honor former and current cancer patients of the hospital -- trees that will be symbols of hope and inspiration for other patients still engaged in the battle against cancer. The trees will be planted just outside the hospital, in a ceremony to take place Friday, June 29, 2001, beginning at 11:00 a.m. They will be among more than trees planted that have become constant reminders to patients, their family and friends, and hospital staff alike that cancer can be beaten, more people survive every day, and where there is life there is hope.

"Celebrate Life is an event every person at our hospital looks forward to each year," said Roger Cary, President and CEO of Midwestern Regional Medical Center. "We walk by those trees every time we arrive at the hospital and they are a daily reminder of our patients' successes."

Indeed, each tree does represent a success story. From Wisconsin to Puerto Rico, those celebrating their successes this year feel strongly enough about their victories to travel back to Zion to be part of the ceremony.

The cancer treatment program at Midwestern focuses on treating the whole person, not merely on treating cancer. That means addressing all aspects of the patient's life and how it is affected by cancer - mind, body and spirit.

The public is welcome to attend the event and celebrate life with patients and staff. For more information about Celebrate Life, please contact the marketing department at Midwestern, at 847-872-6362.

Founded in 1988, Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA) manages cancer hospitals, oncology practices and outpatient hospital-based cancer programs that employ a comprehensive, integrated approach to traditional cancer treatment to empower patients to fight their cancer while maintaining a high quality of life. In addition to medically advanced cancer treatments such as surgery, radiation and chemotherapy, CTCA offers complementary treatments, including naturopathy, therapeutic nutrition, psychological and spiritual support, and oncology rehabilitation. CTCA programs and facilities are accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, The American College of Surgeons, and the American College of Pathology, among others. CTCA's Midwestern Regional is the only hospital in Illinois to receive back-to-back accreditation with commendation by JCAHO.

CTCA supports progressive cancer research through its affiliation with the Cancer Treatment Research Foundation, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. CTCA serves cancer patients worldwide primarily at its hospitals in Zion, Illinois and Tulsa, Oklahoma. Other facilities are located in Goshen, Indiana; Portsmouth, Virginia; and Seattle, Washington. For more information about CTCA, call toll-free 1-800-765-9920, or visit the Web site, www.cancercenter.com.

American Red Cross offers hot weather tips for unofficial start of summer

Finally, the long-awaited days of summer are coming to the Chicago area. But, as we all know, the onset of summer means the potential for extreme heat in the Windy City. Chicago-area summers can be dangerous for the very young, the very old and others who are susceptible to heat and heat-related illnesses. As temperatures start to soar, The American Red Cross of Greater Chicago offers heat safety tips to help local residents get ready before the heat becomes unbearable.

To avoid weather-related emergencies such as heat cramps, heat exhaustion and heat stroke, the Red Cross advises you to:

- Slow down. Avoid strenuous activity. If you must do strenuous activity, do it during the coolest part of the day, which is usually in the morning between 4 and 7 a.m.

- Stay indoors as much as possible. If air conditioning is not available, stay on the lowest floor and stay away from sunshine. Remember that electric fans do not cool, they simply circulate air.

- Wear lightweight, light-colored clothing. Light colors will reflect some of the sun's energy away from the body.

- Drink plenty of water. Keep water or juice with you and drink continuously, even if you don't feel thirsty. Your body needs water to keep cool.

- Avoid drinks with caffeine and alcohol. They can make you feel better briefly, but make the heat's effects on your body worse. This is equally true with beer, which dehydrates the body.

- Eat small meals and eat more often. Avoid foods high in protein, which increase metabolic heat.

- Avoid using salt tablets unless directed to do so by a physician.

It is also important to know what these heat-related terms mean:

- Heat wave: More than 48 hours of high heat (90 F or higher) and high humidity (80 percent relative humidity or higher) are expected.

- Heat index: A number in degrees Fahrenheit that tells how hot it really feels with the heat and humidity. Exposure to full sunshine can increase the heat index by 15F.

- Heat cramps: Heat cramps are muscular pains and spasms due to heavy exertion. They usually involve the abdominal muscles or the legs. It is generally thought that the loss of water and salt from heavy sweating causes the cramps.

For more information or to obtain a free heat safety brochure, contact your local Red Cross chapter or call 312-729-6209. The American Red Cross operates around the clock, every day of the year providing community disaster preparedness and relief, safety and health education, international services and assistance to military personnel and their families. The American Red Cross is not a government agency, but is funded through the United Way and individual, corporate and foundation donations. For more information visit www.chicagoredcross.org.

Cognitive processing deficits can cause problems with sports

Hi Dr. Singer,

I have been reading your columns for years now and love them. Thank you for all the insight I have seen you write about cognitive processing skill problems in kids. Usually you write about it in the school and learning realm but I was wondering if cognitive processing problems can ever cause a child problems playing sports. We have a son and he plays several sports, but we notice that many times, his thinking is slower than it needs to be to make the play or there is too much coming at him at once and he just freezes. These things have really started to cause him to become somewhat sensitive and we wonder if it might not be causing some self-esteem problems. Can the cognitive processing problems you have been writing about for some time cause a child to freeze up during sports and if so how can we help him? J.S.

Hi J.S.,

The answer is absolutely. Think for a minute about what sports are about. Usually, it involves the need for fast thinking or fast processing speed and the ability to handle multiple levels of stimuli at the same moment. It also involves being able to plan ahead or organization and sequential thought process. It also involves remembering plays and directions or auditory memory. These are absolutely cognitive processing skills and they are the same processing skills that I write about and work with kids to improve. The idea behind what I do with kids is that it does not only help school progress, but helps them to play sports better and to just think better and faster in general.

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

There are many kids out there who get what I call, "deer in the headlights syndrome." This is when they have too much coming at them and they cannot separate it out quickly enough and respond quickly enough to deal with it. They just freeze up. It can happen in sports and also other arenas too. This sounds tremendously like what you are describing your son's experience to be. Please understand that the kids that this is happening to are not any less smart than other kids. Their IQ's can be normal. The problem is they may have specific processing area deficits that are getting in the way and it is keeping them from performing at their best level. The kids I have worked with to correct this problem have soared after just a little bit of practicing those skills with me. The unfortunate part is that when some parents see their kid freezing like that on the field, they think it's just not a strength the child has and pulls the child out or worse yet, tells the child that he or she just isn't trying hard enough. Those parents are usually just trying to encourage the child or protect the child, but the best track here is to correct the skills as soon as possible so the child doesn't have to struggle with them anymore.

Some of these kids who are freezing up in these situations are being tried on medication. I am not going to discuss here whether or not medication is the absolute right step for a problem like this, but I will say that while the medication may help some of the symptoms, it will not teach the child how to develop those deficient skills. Those skills still need to be trained so the child can take on new complicated things without freezing up. It requires the ability to multi-task, remember, plan and execute actions efficiently which is exactly what I help kids develop.

You had asked what to do next. The first step I recommend to clients who come to me with this problem, is to let me evaluate the child to determine if any of those processing deficits exist. If we find that they do exist, we develop a treatment specific to repairing the specific deficits the child is facing. If we find that they do not exist, we explore further to figure out what can be causing the problem to occur. Either way we arrive at an answer and make it better so the child can keep enjoying the sport while feeling good about him or herself. After all isn't that what it's all about?

If you do want to evaluate the child to determine if these processing deficits are causing the problem, call back and we'll explore together.

Dr. Sherri Singer is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Childhood Behavior Specialist. She regularly works in person with many readers of this column, helping them to significantly improve their kid's behavior and processing skills. New to Dr. Singer's practice is her very powerful "Tic Mark System of Behavior Improvement in Kids." This system has promoted unbelievably fast behavior change both at home and school with very little work from parents and teachers. Dr. Singer continues to help kids with focus and processing in her Total Success and Pace Program. For an appointment, please call (847) 577-8832 or (708) 962-2549.

Planning ahead for fun in the summer sun

For many of today's nine-to-fivers, the prospect of a sunny summer weekend is the only thing that gets them through a grueling work week. But too often, the heat and humidity of the season can turn summer faire, like gardening and backyard barbecuing, into harmful, even dangerous endeavors for unprepared weekend warriors.

"I've learned from many summers past that being prepared for the heat can go a long way in ensuring that I'm able to make the most out of my days off," says Chicagoan, Tricia Murphy, who several years ago fainted as a result of heat stroke after an afternoon at the beach. Since then, she says she's become attuned to the precautions necessary for extended sun exposure.

Before even stepping outside, packing a few "fun in the sun essentials," that you can bring with you, will prepare and protect you from the dangers of summer. Including sunscreen should be the first step for anyone planning to spend time outside. Dermatology experts recommend using at least a 15 SPF sunscreen to help protect from the sun's harmful ultraviolet rays. Packing a supply of pre-moistened washcloths can also help to keep you clean, cool and refreshed during outdoor activity.

Choosing the right outfit before heading into the hot summer sun is just as important to help you beat the heat. Consider wearing light-colored clothing that will reflect the sun's rays away from your body. Experts also recommend wearing loose-fitting clothing that will allow perspiration to evaporate more rapidly, making it easier for the body to cool itself.

Another essential for all outdoor summer activities, even as simple as working in the garden, is maintaining proper hydration. "You always hear about active people needing plenty of fluid but I've found that it's so easy to forget to drink enough water when I spend hours in the garden," explains Pat Meyers who has been an avid gardener for almost 20 years. "I like to keep a pitcher of water, lemonade or ice tea handy, which I use to fill a large water bottle that is always at my side."

Even the backyard grill, an icon of summer, can turn into a hidden hazard. "Every summer there are cases of people who had been barbecuing and they just became overwhelmed by the combined heat of the grill and the hot sun," explains Katie Morrissey, a registered nurse. "Many times these cases could be avoided if people would consciously drink plenty of fluids and spend reasonable amounts of time over the grill."

Proper sun protection and adequate hydration sometimes aren't enough when the sun's rays are just too oppressive. On days like these, experts recommend avoiding rigorous activities between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., when the sun's rays are the strongest. Resting during these hours, inside the house and away from the sun, can offer a chance to cool off and refresh.

"Each time I take a break from the sun, I use it as an opportunity to freshen up and reenergize," says Meyers. "I always keep Comfort Bath washcloths on hand to remove the sweat and sunscreen that has built up on my arms, face and neck. I usually keep them in the refrigerator so they're extra cool and refreshing after hours in the sun."

Haste to partake in the summer season can cause you to forget these simple precautions, and may lead to sunburn, dehydration or heat stroke. Remember to pack those "fun in the sun essentials" -- sunscreen, light-colored and loose-fitting clothing, plenty of fluids and pre-moistened, disposable Comfort Bath washcloths, which are available in drugstores nationwide. Following these easy tips, and using common sense when playing outside, can help to ensure an enjoyable and safe summer.

Victory Lakes joins forces with local nursing homes

Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, Lindenhurst has joined with nine other not-for-profit long-term care facilities in the Chicagoland area to participate in the Wellspring Innovate Solutions Program. The Wellspring Program has shown results which improve the quality of care and quality of life of nursing home residents while decreasing employee turnover and cutting healthcare costs.

The Wellspring Program was conceived in 1994 by eleven Wisconsin not-for-profit trade association, was instrumental in promoting this unique and innovative approach to nursing home care throughout its Illinois membership.

"The current system of nursing home care in the nation is broken," says Dennis Bozzi, president of Life Services Network. "We are in a crisis in terms of quality care and staff availability. Despite voluminous regulations, poor providers are still in business. More regulation and draconian enforcement are not the answer."

Wellspring organizations believe that the key to organizational viability in the future is the collaboration and cooperation among facilities, staff empowerment, data based decision making and accountability between partner organizations of improved resident outcomes.

For more information on the services provided by Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, call 356-5900.

Celebrate Life

We can see the forest for the trees

At Cancer Treatment Centers of America at Midwestern Regional Medical Center in Zion, it has been our practice to plant a tree celebrating survivorship in a patient's fight against cancer. When the battle is won and lives are saved, a tribute takes root. The ceremony is appropriately titled Celebrate Life. We've already planted hundreds of trees in Zion.

This year, Celebrate Life festivities will take place June 29.

Starting 12 years ago with a concept of treating "loved ones" instead of mere "patients" with the latest clinical advances cancer-fighting technology has to offer, our message has branched throughout the world to those in search of humanity at the time they need it most.

In a person's darkest hour in the fight against cancer, they need more than a hospital with cutting edge technology just like our hospital in Zion. They also need a hospital that cares about people first just like our hospital in Zion.

Our methods don't just treat the cancer.

Employing equal measures of spiritual, nutritional, naturopathic, and emotional care empowers the individual to turn their own body against the cancer within. Victims step aside, there's a cancer fighter comin' through.

It works. And we want to duplicate that success again and again and again.

Which brings us to a small problem. We've planted so many trees we're running out of room in our arboretum. But not to worry. You just supply the willpower, we'll supply the topsoil and the tree. And we'll never get tired of planting them.

Our goal is to plant a forest. We hope to see the public June 29 to celebrate life with us.

Achievers honored for education, landing a job

Fifty women with accomplishments in the work place and education are "super stars" in Catholic Charities Lake County Family Self-Sufficiency programs.

They excelled as single parents earning college degrees, professional licenses, certificates, and awards; completed six months of stable employment, or have been promoted on the job.

The honorees were recognized at a program at North Chicago.

The Catholic Charities Lake County Family Self-Sufficiency programs began in Lake County in 1985 as an effort to reform the welfare system, and to assist clients to obtain higher education, become employed, and achieve self-sufficiency. The Self-Sufficiency programs provide case management, job readiness classes, educational support, job coaching and retention services, support counseling, and financial guidance. The Lake County, Waukegan and North Chicago Housing Authorities cooperate with the Lake County Self-Sufficiency Programs.

Since 1995, the Transition to the Workplace Program (which includes job readiness, placement and retention services) has served a total of 213 clients, 157 of whom have achieved employment. The Educational Advancement Program has served 248 families since 1985. One hundred fifty-two women have earned academic degrees, licenses, GEDs or certifications. Of this number, 109 have received associate or bachelor degrees. Their average annual salary is $16,000 for non-degreed workers; and $23,000 per degreed worker.

Upcoming county fair events will "moove" residents

Opening up on Tuesday, July 24 and running until Sunday, July 29, the Lake County Fair will provide much more than just contests and farm animals.

There are all kinds of entertainment and fun things to do and see every day of the Fair.

Strolling the crowds each day will be a still walker, a juggler and balloon artist Charles Stron.

Rodney Rooster's Roadster will make daily cruises at the fairgrounds and Perry's Exotic Petting Zoo will allow the kids to meet animals that they don't usually find in Lake County.

Watch the Hampel Family Circus' performance of circus illusions, magic and juggling acts and look for Moo Mania and his traveling puppet show.

Don't miss the unforgettable show of the Magic of Bob Bohm.

Bring the family to the Lake County Fair for this wide variety of entertainment.

Regular ticket prices are 20 for $15 or 75 cents each with Kiddie rides requiring two tickets, three tickets for major rides and four tickets for spectacular rides.

Tuesday, July 24 tickets are $1 with Kiddie rides only requiring one ticket and major ride only two.

Purchase a wristband for $15 and ride unlimited rides on Wednesday, July 25 and Thursday, July 26 from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

CLC NOTES

Free swing dance lessons

Couples can spend a summer evening dancing under the stars at the College of Lake County on June 29. Experienced dance instructor Marybeth Vaughan will give swing dance lessons to beginning and experienced dancers from 8-11 p.m. in the patio outside the Learning Resource Center on the Grayslake Campus. The program is free and open to the public. The event is sponsored by the student activities office. For information, call 543-2290.

New student orientation meetings

The College of Lake County student development office will conduct three orientation sessions for new degree-seeking students who will attend CLC in the fall semester. Sessions will be held from 10 a.m.-2:30 p.m. on June 26 and 3:30-8 p.m. on June 28 in the Mainstage Theatre on the Grayslake Campus.

The sessions will include a multimedia presentation about CLC, a campus tour and a financial aid presentation. Students also will complete academic advisement, course selection and registration. New students are strongly encouraged to attend an orientation session.

Prior to attending the orientation, students must have a CLC application on file in the admissions office. They also must have completed the basic skills assessment process by taking CLC's Academic Proficiency Test or submitting high school or college transcripts and ACT, SAT or GED scores for evaluation. Students enrolling in math courses are advised to take the math placement test.

Pre-registration is required. More orientation sessions will be conducted in July and August. For reservations, call 543-2090.

'Quickbooks' workshop

A one-day workshop covering the use of the popular business software QuickBooks Pro 2000 will be conducted from 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. June 27 in Room L144 at the College of Lake County's Grayslake Campus.

Students will learn how to set up QuickBooks, work with lists, sell products, invoice for services, customize forms, process payments, work with bank accounts, enter and pay bills, create reports and graphs, track and pay sales tax and more. The seminar will be conducted by Arnie Petersen, a CLC instructor and a consultant experienced in Quicken, QuickBooks, MS Word, MS Excel, Win 95/98, Pagemaker and the Internet.

The cost is $160. To register, call 543-2033 or fax to 543-3061. The program is sponsored by CLC's Small Business Development Center.

Fairfield Village residents enjoy chain atmosphere

Buyers who are seeking maintenance-free townhome or condominium living can enjoy the scenic Chain O'Lakes country at Fairfield Villages on Long Lake in Round Lake Beach and get in touch with the great outdoors.

Fairfield Villages includes 220 one-level manor homes, priced from $102,990 to $104,990 and 125 townhomes, currently priced from $113,990 to $120,990. In addition, an incentive of $3,000 on the manor homes and $2,000 on the townhomes may be applied to purchase options or pay closing costs when purchasing through preferred lenders. Model homes are open for viewing and a selection of homes is available for early delivery.

"Every home at Fairfield Villages includes a patio or deck so residents can enjoy the natural environment and sliding glass doors to invite the fresh country breezes in," said Isa Noe, vice president of sales and marketing for Kenar, L.L.C. "The community is set on rolling land with 71 acres of park district open space and wetlands as well as wooded areas and five ponds that provide spectacular views from many of the homes."

The manor homes feature two designs: the Arlington, a 1,067-square-foot plan priced from $101,990 and the Buckingham, a home with 1,002 square feet of space, priced from $103,990.

The manor homes feature living rooms with triple windows overlooking patios or balconies; dining rooms with large windows and access to outdoor living spaces; kitchens with refrigerators, continuous-clean gas ovens/ranges and hoods, dish-washers and garbage disposals; master suites with walk-in closets and private baths with double-bowl vanities per plan; second bedrooms served by hall baths; step-saving laundry rooms near bedrooms and attached garages. Second-floor homes have cathedral ceilings.

"Eight manor homes sold in one week recently which is a very brisk sales pace," Noe said. "It appears that low interest rates and the approach of summer is causing many people to think about buying a home in a great location. Typically, first-time buyers think that scenic locations are always reserved for luxury homes but Fairfield Villages offers affordability plus a resort lifestyle."

Townhome buyers can choose from three plan three plans ranging in size from 1,038 to 1,246 square feet with two bedrooms or two bedrooms and a den; 1 1/2 baths; living rooms with optional fireplaces; dining rooms; eat-in kitchens; second-floor laundry rooms; colonist doors and trim; wall-to-wall carpeting; and attached garages.

"Approximately 80 percent of the townhomes are already sold so those buyers who prefer two-story plans should act quickly," Noe said.

A homeowners association handles lawn cutting, landscaping care, snow and garbage removal, intercom service in the manor homes and coverage under a master insurance policy for a modest monthly fee.

The lake country ambiance and central location of Fairfield Villages is combined with easy commuting and all of the other conveniences needed for life in the 21st century. The Metra commuter train station is just two minutes away and Int. Hwy. 94 and Ill. Hwy. 12 are major transportation links. Plentiful stores, services, restaurants and entertainment are nearby.

The Fairfield Villages sales center and model homes are open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

daily, except for Monday when hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. To visit, take Ill. Hwy. 12 to Ill. Hwy. 120, east two miles to Fairfield, north three miles to Long Lake Drive (Main Street), west three blocks to Village Drive and follow the signs. Call 740-0200 for more information, or visit www.kenarllc.com.

Command center

Comfortable home office can become center of home networking capabilities for connection to the Internet via high-speed cable modem, DSL or standard dial-up service. Player of The Year

MHS' Kass finishes a masterful career

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

Michelle Kass
Sr., P, Mundelein

One of the most dominate single seasons in Lake County came to an end when the Mustangs lost 6-3 to Fremd in the sectional semifinals.

Minus the five earned runs given up by Michelle Kass in her third loss of the season, she had an utterly dominant campaign.

Kass finished the season at 26-3, with an ERA under 0.50. In fact, Kass allowed just 12 earned runs in 196 innings pitched. She struck out 269 batters while walking only 17. Kass also tallied 18 shutouts which included a no-hitter and two perfect games.

Those numbers were good enough to earn Kass an honorable mention for All-State and the distinction of being the Lakeland Player of the Year.

But this wasn't her only strong season on the mound.

In 2000, Kass was 14-7 with a 0.91 ERA and 198 punchouts in 154 innings. In her freshman year of 1998, Kass was 17-4 with a 2.03 ERA and 125 strikeouts in 131 innings.

"I can't compare this year to any other year," said Kass. "I just seemed to relax more because it was my last year. I also had a better team offensively and defensively which helped my statistics."

As far as individuals go, Kass credits her relationship with head coach Ted Juske and battery mate Megan McEvilly with part of her success.

"I had a strong relationship with Megan, which you have to have with your catcher or it won't work," said Kass. "And Coach Juske was like a second dad to me. He's one of those people that makes you feel important as a player and a person."

Juske agrees with Kass and feels that they share a paternal relationship.

"She's what you hope your daughter would turn out to be like," said Juske of Kass. "The effort, responsibility and discipline she puts in is an amazing thing."

Despite three regional titles in her career and the tremendous individual statistics, Kass will always remember the final game of her freshman year.

The game was against Stevenson in the sectional title game and Mundelein was up in the final inning when Kass gave up a game-winning home run.

"I always remember the bad things," said Kass. "It's not a happy thought."

Stevenson went on to become Kass' and Mundelein's main rival over the next three years.

In fact, the game Kass will remember most from this past season was the first game of a doubleheader against the Patriots back in May.

Kass gave up just two hits in the first game as the Mustangs won 1-0.

"It's always nice to beat Stevenson," said Kass. "We lost the second game but that's not important."

With her career as a Mustang at an end, Kass will attend Augustana College in Rock Island where she will major in athletic training while playing softball.

"I will definitely play," said Kass. "I won't walk on."

Coach of The Year

Greg Stilling,
Vernon Hills

The split last fall with Libertyville and Vernon Hills certainly payed nice dividends for the Cougars, especially in softball. Loaded mostly with talented juniors and sophomores, Stilling and the Cougars made some noise in the school's first-ever season. Vernon finished 17-15 overall and second-place (9-1) in the North Suburban Prairie Division. And guess what! Everybody returns!

First Team

Amanda Pollitt, Antioch

The junior outfielder helped Antioch take a step in the right direction, batting .286 with a homer and 11 RBI.

Theresa Macrowski, Carmel

The senior shortstop batted .305 with 29 hits, 19 RBI, 7 doubles and one triple.

Danielle Jakes, Grant

The senior catcher hit at a .321 clip with 8 RBI, 14 runs scored, 4 doubles and 2 triples. Defensively, had a .974 fielding percentage while throwing out 37 attempted base stealers.

Tara Mendralla, Grayslake

The junior first baseman was the team leader in batting average (.386), RBI (18) and on-base percentage (.463) while hitting in the No. 3 spot.

Courtney Dydo, Libertyville

The senior was the shining light in what was otherwise a down year for the Cats. Dydo, a shortstop and leadoff hitter, batted close to .330 in the NSC with 16 RBI and 3 home runs. She was also stellar in the field, making only 10 errors to accompany an .850 fielding percentage.

Lauren Blerwirth, Mundelein

The senior centerfielder led the NSC champs with a .456 batting average. Also collected 11 doubles, 6 triples and a homer. Illinois- State-bound.

Nikki Cartuccio, Round Lake

The junior third baseman/catcher batted .315 in North Suburban action, including a .480 slugging percentage and .490 on-base percentage. The Panthers finished third in the NSC Lake division with a 6-4 mark.

Beth Plucinski, Vernon Hills

The junior catcher and co-captain batted .325 with a .474 slugging percentage. Also had 25 RBI, scored 31 runs, belted 2 home runs and swiped 13 bases. A state qualifier in the Class AA hitting derby.

Carrie Nichols, Warren

The Devils' MVP went 13-8 on the mound with a 1.98 ERA, including 126 strikeouts in 147 innings. Warren finished 19-13 and third in the NSC Lake division at 7-3.

Jodi Mergenthaler, Wauconda

The senior shortstop capped off a terrific career at WHS, batting .324 with 24 RBI and 8 doubles. She also had two triples and a pair of round-trippers while hitting third in the order.

Johnsburg's Moulis repeats as 'King' at Wilmot

Dave Moulis of Johnsburg, made it back-to-back crowns in the Miller Lite presents King of Wisconsin Sprint Car Challenge V sanctioned by the World of Outlaws Gumout Series on June 16 at Premier Racing Production's Wilmot Speedway. Moulis was the fifth different main event winner in five Gumout Series features thus far this season.

"I don't even remember last year," said Moulis, referring to his 'King' win in the inaugural World of Outlaws sanctioned event last August. "I knew this year would be harder when I pulled a 73 pill in qualifying and timed in 22nd (out of 57 cars). We had a good finish in the heat race (2nd) and the dash (3rd) which gave us a good starting spot."

"Kurt (Winker) was tough to get around, but I knew I had something for him if I could get it right down the backstretch coming out of turn two," Moulis said. "This is a great win for us and a very special happy Father's Day to my dad. I always seem to forget them when I thank people in victory lane, but without my parents, I wouldn't have ever gotten into racing."

"Dave is tough here," said Winker, of Kenosha, Wis., who won the fourth heat and the Weld Race Components Dash. "I thought

LET'S GO RACING

Michael H. Babicz

we had something for him tonight, but a little case of driver error and he got me. Finishing second to him is nothing to be ashamed of."

"Those guys were tough," said Jac Haudenschield of Wooster, Ohio, who was driving the Wise Motorsports #97 for the first time with the series. "It felt good to be in the Wise car. We gave it all we could and for a first night in this car, third isn't bad."

Jason Sides of Bartlett, TN, winner of the Weld Racing Dash, jumped out in front of the 24-car field from his pole starting spot. Sides and Winker got hooked into a wing to wing battle, swapping the lead unofficially at least a half dozen times during the early going. Cautions on laps six and 10 slowed the progress, with Winker officially taking the point just prior to the lap 10 yellow.

Winker and Moulis were beginning to encounter lapped traffic just prior to the race's final caution on lap 27. With clear sailing in front, the two began to try different grooves as the laps wound down. On lap 32, Moulis shot to the outside down the back straightaway heading into turn three and was able to rim ride into the lead. Traffic began to play a factor again during the closing laps, but the top three were up to the task.

Sides ended up fourth. Gumout pointleader Darryn Pittman of Owasso, Oklahoma moved up from 18th on the starting grid to place fifth.

Kim Mock of Pleasant Prairie, Wis., Joe Roe, also from Pleasant Prairie, fast qualifier Ronald Laney of Humble, Texas, Todd Hepfner of Pewaukee, Wis. and Craig Kinser of Bloomington, Indiana rounded out the top-10.

Manufacturers heat wins went to Laney, Roe, Sides and Winker. The 'C' main went to Matt Dworak of Kenosha. The Hank's Performance Products 'B' Main was won by Todd Daun of Pleasant Prairie. Dave Quist of Lake-In-The-Hills, Ill. took the last chance qualifier race win.

Ed Kaelber of Twin Lakes, Wis. got upside down in the 'C' main, but was not injured.

In all, 57 cars from nine states were on hand before the a nearly packed house.

Wilmot Speedway will host its 50th Anniversary Celebration Night on Saturday, June 23, sponsored by Don's Towing and Truck Repair. The race program will feature the Star Trac 410 Outlaw Winged Sprints headed by Moulis who will be shooting for a fourth straight feature win at Wilmot in 2001. The IMCA modifieds will have Ed Devall of Waukegan, Illinois going for his third in a row in that division. Not to be outdone, Tony Schlei of Zion, will be after his third straight in the Herb's IMCA hobby stocks.

Grandstand gates open at 5 p.m. with sprint time trials scheduled for 6:15 and racing at 7.

For the latest information, contact the trackside racelines (262) 862-2446 or (847) 838-RACE. Wilmot Speedway is a one-third mile clay facility located on the Kenosha County Fairgrounds in Wilmot, Wis.

ORDINANCE NO. 2000/2001-6

ORDINANCE DETERMINING TO LEVY FOR FISCAL YEAR 2001-2002
AN ADDITIONAL TAX OF UP TO .02 PERCENT OF EQUALIZED OR ASSESSED VALUE OF TAXABLE PROPERTY FOR PARTICULAR BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT PURPOSES IN ACCORDANCE WITH 75 ILLINOIS COMPILED STATUTES, SECTION 16/35-5

WHEREAS the Fox Lake Public Library District, Lake and McHenry Counties, Illinois, is a public library district organized pursuant to 75 ILCS 16/1-1 et seq., the Illinois Public Library District Act; and

WHEREAS the Board of Library Trustees of the Fox Lake Public Library District is the corporate authority of said public library district, pursuant to statutory authority set forth in Sec. 16/30-35 of the aforesaid statute; and

WHEREAS, Section 16/35-5(b) of the aforesaid act provides that the corporate authority may levy an additional tax of .02 percent of the value of all the taxable property in the district, as equalized or assessed, for the purchase of sites and buildings, for the construction and equipment of buildings, for the rental of buildings required for library purposes, and for maintenance, repairs, and alterations of library buildings and equipment; and

WHEREAS, this Board hereby deems it in the best interest of and of the greatest benefit to the public library district and the electors thereof and the residents of said public library district that such revenue be made available for the aforesaid designated purposes, as set forth by said law;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Library Trustees of the Fox Lake Public Library District, Lake and McHenry Counties, Illinois, that:

Section 1. The Board hereby determines to levy for 2001-2002 an additional tax not to exceed a tax rate of .02 percent of the value of all the taxable property in the District, as equalized or assessed by the Department of Revenue, for the purchase of sites and buildings, for the construction and equipment of buildings, for the rental of buildings required for library purposes, and for maintenance, repairs, and alterations of library buildings and equipment, pursuant to 75 ILCS 16/35-5 and for such other purposes set forth in and aforesaid statute.

Section 2. Within 15 days after its adoption, this Ordinance shall be published at least once in one or more daily or weekly newspapers published or circulated in the District, or otherwise posted in accordance with law, and also the "Public Notice" attached hereto as "Annex A" hereof, shall be included with such publication or posting.

Section 3. If, within the thirty (30) day period after publication of this ordinance, a petition is filed in accordance with law, signed by electors in the District equal in number to ten (10) percent or more of the total number of registered voters in the district, asking that the question of levying such a .02 percent tax be submitted to the electors of the District, the question shall be submitted at the next applicable election, or at any special election called in accordance with law. Said election shall be conducted in all particulars as set forth by statutes.

Section 4. If no petition is filed in accordance with law, this District shall then be authorized to levy the tax, and the tax levy ordinance for the forthcoming fiscal year may contain a direction to the County Clerk of the County or Counties within which the District lies to levy such additional tax.

Section 5. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval, and publication according to law, and any resolutions or ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed; and should any part of this ordinance be adjudged invalid or unconstitutional, such adjudication shall affect only that part of this act specifically covered thereby, which shall be severable therefrom, and shall not affect any other provisions or parts of this act.

PUBLIC NOTICE
RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the State of Illinois has enacted "An Act regulating wages of laborers, mechanics and other workers employed in any public works by the state, county, city or any public body or any political subdivision or by any one under contract for public works," approved June 26, 1941, codified as amended, 820 ILCS 130/1 et. seq. (1993), formerly ILL. Rev. Stat., Ch. 48, Par. 39a-1 et. seq. and

WHEREAS, the aforesaid act requires that Lincolnshire-Prairie View School District 103, Lincolnshire, Illinois, investigate and ascertain the prevailing rate of wages as defined in said Act for laborers, mechanics and other workers in the locality of said District employed in performing construction of public works, for said District.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF DISTRICT NO 103:

SECTION 1: To the extent and as required by "An Act regulating wages of laborers, mechanics and other workers employed in any public works by the state, county, city or any public body or any political subdivision or by any one under contract for public works," approved June 26, 1941, as amended, the general prevailing rate of wages in this locality for laborers, mechanics and other workers engaged in the construction of public works coming under the jurisdiction of this District is hereby ascertained to be the same as the prevailing rate of wages for construction work in the Lake County area as determined by the Department of Labor of the State of Illinois as of June 2001, a copy of that determination being attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference. As required by said Act, any and all revisions of the prevailing rate of wages by the Department of Labor of the State of Illinois shall supersede the Department's June determination and apply to any and all public works construction undertaken by the District. The definition of any terms appearing in this Resolution which are also used in aforesaid Act shall be the same as in said Act.

SECTION 2: Nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply said general prevailing rate of wages as herein ascertained to any work or employment, except public works construction of this District to the extent required by the aforesaid Act.

SECTION 3: The District shall publicly post or keep available for inspection by any interested party in the main office of the District this determination or any revisions of such prevailing rate of wage. A copy of this determination or of the current revised determination of prevailing rate of wages then in effect shall be attached to all contract specifications.

SECTION 4: The Assistant Superintendent for Business shall mail a copy of this determination to any employer, and to any association of employers and to any person or association of employees who have filed their names and addresses, requesting copies of any determination stating the particular rates and the particular class of workers whose wages will be affected by such rates.

SECTION 5: The Assistant Superintendent for Business shall promptly file a certified copy of this Resolution with both the Secretary of State Index Division and the Department of Labor of the State of Illinois.

SECTION 6: The Assistant Superintendent for Business shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the area a copy of this Resolution, and such publication shall constitute notice that the determination is effective and that this is the determination of this public body.

PASSED THIS 11th day of June, 2001.

Purpose

Each year the Village will issue a report of this type to provide information about the quality of our drinking water as well as details on the source of our water, how it is treated, and what it contains. The reports are being issued in compliance with the requirements of the Safe Drinking Water Act and are also intended to demonstrate the Village's commitment to providing a safe and reliable supply of drinking water for our residents.

Background

Since 1992 the Village has purchased water from the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency (CLCJAWA). CLCJAWA is an intergovernmental cooperative, formed by the communities it serves: Grayslake, Gurnee, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Park, and the County of Lake representing the unincorporated areas of Knollwood/Rondout and Wildwood and the Village of Vernon Hills.

The Water Treatment Process

All drinking water in the Village of Round Lake comes from Lake Michigan. This surface water source is treated by CLCJAWA at the Paul M. Neal Water Treatment Facility in Lake Bluff. The water is pumped from Lake Michigan and then undergoes a treatment process designed to assure constant contaminant removal and production of clean, safe drinking water that is also aesthetically pleasing. There are two features of the treatment process, which provide unique capabilities. First, water from Lake Michigan goes through a primary disinfecting step using ozone, which has been found to be highly effective in removing contaminants and in deactivating disease-causing pathogens. And, finally, the treated water passes through filters of granular activated carbon, which remove any remaining contaminants and particles from the water and has also proven to be proficient in eliminating problems sometimes encountered with unpleasant tastes or odors.

The Village's Delivery System

Once the treated water reaches Round Lake, it is stored in two ground storage reservoirs. The first is located on Cedar Lake Rd. and holds 300,000 gallons; the second is located on Nippersink Rd. and holds 500,000 gallons. From these two reservoirs the water is pumped into the distribution system and into our elevated storage tank (water tower), located on Wilson Rd. in the Valley Lakes subdivision. The Village has a second water tower under construction which is scheduled to be "on line" in June, 2001. This tower is located in the industrial park off of Sunset Dr. The two water towers each hold 750,000 gallons.

Water Quality

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminant's does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the US Environmental Protection Agency's (USEPA) Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791. To ensure that tap water is safe to drink, the Environmental Protection Agency prescribes limits on the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) imposes fewer restrictions for contaminants in bottled water, which must provide the same protection for public health. Our tap water quality is consistently monitored by the Village, by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA), in the CLCJAWA Water Quality Lab, and by several other "third party" labs. This aggressive water quality assurance program is unmatched: bacteriological tests are conducted much more often than required, water clarity monitored every second, and over 360 contaminants are monitored on a routine basis. Water quality is judged by comparing our water to USEPA benchmarks for water quality. One such benchmark is called the Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG). The MCLG is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. This goal allows for a margin of safety. Another benchmark is a Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL). An MCL is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. An MCL is set as close to an MCLG as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

The water produced by CLCJAWA has never violated any water quality standard.

However, of the 360 contaminants monitored, minute quantities of some regulated compounds do exist. The table below lists all of the regulated compounds detected in our water, even in the minutest traces. The table lists the compound detected, the level found, the ideal goal for public health (MCLG), the highest level allowed by regulation (MCL), any violations, and the sources of these compounds. If a date appears in the "Date" column, the Illinois EPA requires monitoring for this contaminant less than once per year because the concentrations do not frequently change. If no date appears in the column, monitoring for this contaminant was conducted during the CCR calendar year. Compounds listed in italics were measured by CLCJAWA; the Village measured all other compounds.

Compound (Units)	Level Found	Range of Detection	MCLG	MCL (AL)	Sample Date	Violation	Typical Compound Course
Arsenic (ppb)	0.7	<0.5 - 1.2	none	50		No	Erosion of natural deposits

Abbreviations and what they mean:

(AL)	Action Level is the level of lead that triggers special treatment or other required actions by a water supply
NTU	Nephelometric Turbidity Units is a measure of water cloudiness
pCi/l	pico Curies per liter
pos/month	means the number of water samples that contained coliform bacteria per month
ppb	parts per billion or micrograms per liter (ug/L)
ppm	parts-per-million or milligrams per liter (mg/l)
TT	Treatment Technique refers to a required process intended to reduce a contaminant level in drinking water
n/a	not applicable
nd	Not detectable at testing limits

Lead and Copper:

There is no detectable lead or copper in the water that CLCJAWA provides to each community. Some homes with old lead service lines, lead plumbing, or lead solder, may have lead and copper in their water. To minimize this contamination, the Illinois EPA requires phosphate addition to our water in very low quantities of 0.3 ppm orthophosphate. This commonly used food ingredient coats the inside of your plumbing with a thin film. The film reduces the level of lead that may enter your water.

Sodium:

There is no state or federal MCL for sodium. Monitoring is required to provide information to consumers in case you are concerned about sodium intake due to dietary precautions. If the sodium level in our water was greater than 20 ppm, and you were on a sodium restricted diet, you would be advised to consult a physician.

Turbidity:

Turbidity is a measure of the cloudiness of the water. CLCJAWA monitors it because it is a good indicator of water quality and the effectiveness of their filtration and disinfection systems. Turbidity is monitored every six seconds by instruments and every four hours in the lab.

Additional Contaminant Monitoring

Our system also monitors for substances in water for which no standards have been set or for contaminants for which we are not required to monitor. We take the initiative to check our water for things that concern the public and the scientific community. In 1999, this additional testing included among numerous other things, asbestos. No asbestos was detected in the water entering the CLCJAWA water treatment plant.

Contamination Sources in Drinking Water

Our tap water comes from Lake Michigan, a surface water source. With a depth of 900 feet, Lake Michigan is the largest lake in the United States, formed as glaciers retreated north during the last ice age. The Great Lakes contain approximately 20% of the fresh water on Earth's surface. More water evaporates off of Lake Michigan each minute than CLCJAWA pumps in an entire day. Since the United States and Canada formed the Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement in 1972, Great Lakes water quality has steadily improved. In 1996, the Illinois Environmental Protection agency rated Lake Michigan water quality as good. All 63 miles of Illinois shoreline support drinking water uses. The primary sources of pollution threatening Lake Michigan include air deposition (pollution from the air, rain and snow) and contaminated sediments.

Both tap and bottled water come from rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring materials and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animal or human activity. Contaminants that may be present in untreated water include:

- Microbial contaminants such as viruses and bacteria can be naturally occurring or may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, and livestock operations.
- Inorganic contaminants such as salts and metals can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides come from sources such as agricultural and residential storm water runoff.
- Organic chemical contaminants including synthetic and volatile organic compounds are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production but can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil, gas, and mining activities.

Immuno-Compromised Persons

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. The USEPA and Center for Disease Control (CDC) guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the USEPA Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Public Meetings

The Village Board meets on the second and fourth Monday of each month at 7:00pm, and the public is always welcome to attend these meetings. Village Trustee Donald Newby is also a member of the Board of Directors of CLCJAWA, which meets on the fourth Wednesday of each month. CLCJAWA provides tours of the water treatment facility, and staff members are also available for public speaking or for school visits. Please contact the Village or CLCJAWA for more information.

ular project. On a county level, workshops were held several times during the year, providing instructions from volunteer experts in a particular field. Kids learned such tips as how to mat a painting for display and how to determine why a lawnmower engine won't start.

As the fair dates of July 24-29 draw closer, the kids prepare to exhibit their projects. Learning and developing skills, knowledge and some expertise in project areas they are interested in, is a great way for the kids to spend their free time now that school is out.

During the judging, 4-Hers talk with a judge about each of their projects, discussing how the idea originated, the materials they used, how they put the project together, and what they learned from the project. The projects are then judged against a set of standards and blue, red, or white ribbons are assigned. Higher awards such as "Grand Champion" and "Best of Show" ribbons are given to superior blue-ribbon projects.

Finally, a select number of projects are chosen for entry and display at the Illinois State Fair, held in Springfield.

The kids end the 4-H year in August with a sense of accomplishment, new or increased skills in practical areas, and memories of friends and great times at the fair.

For more information about 4-H enrollment and the many projects and activities available, contact Sue Armitage at the University of Illinois Extension at 223-8627.

PARKSIDE

Jack Adams, educational consultant for University Station, said, "Tuition at the in-state level will provide greater access to quality higher education programs for many Lake County students. Those who cannot afford campus housing, a long commute, or higher tuition costs will especially benefit."

Convenience, ease of transportation at the development's proposed site, and classes near the workplace will make classes at University Station attractive for both Illinois and Wisconsin students according to Adams.

Deborah Davidson, director of credit outreach UW-Parkside, said people can contact her for curriculum information at (262) 595-2018.

The University's first offering in Waukegan will be a Leadership Certificate program, and it plans to deliver additional certificate programs in Conflict Resolution, Global Skills, and Worldwide Web Publishing in the near future. The certificate programs are typically four to six college course sequences resulting in 12-18 semester credit hours. The certificate programs will be building blocks to various degrees. These certificate programs may also be taken as non-credit experiences, if desired.

Talents that may define the best job fit for you!

By Scott T. Fleischmann

Last week I suggested that there are no crystal balls that will help identify the best jobs for the future. However, knowing your own values and talents and focusing on those strengths will help you to be prepared for the job situations that will be most fulfilling to you. Last week we also identified a process that can serve as a tool to aid in identifying the values that are most important to you. This week we will focus on talents.

The natural abilities that you have are called talents. Everyone has talents however everyone has not identified, utilized and developed those talents. Although skills can be developed in areas where one does not have a natural ability, talents can usually be more thoroughly developed. Therefore, working in an area where you have a talent is, normally, more productive and more fulfilling.

There are as many talent areas and talent combinations as there are people on this planet, so the task of identifying all talents is overwhelming. In order to provide a guide to start evaluating talents I have listed several talent areas below.

Craftsmanship - People with these skills are good at building things. Carpentry, gardening, plumbing, creating a computer network, and sculpturing are all examples of craftsmanship.

Nurturing - These skills focus on serving and caring for others. Counseling, healing, ministry, teaching, parenting, and mentoring are examples of nurturing.

Logic - People with these skills are good at problem solving, planning and strategy. Balancing your checkbook, planning a vacation, accounting, and puzzle solving are examples of logic.

Persuasion - People with these skills are good at creating an environment for people to make a specific decision. Negotiating, selling and preaching are examples of persuasion.

These are only four examples of the infinite list of talents that you may have. I listed them only so that you could have a starting point to evaluate your own talents. If you have developed a skill, do not assume that it is a talent. For example, I started my career as a programmer. I studied those skills in school and then I developed those skills and worked diligently at my trade. However, I had very little talent for that trade and soon moved into other jobs.

How can you identify your talents? Here are two steps that can assist you. Firstly, there are many books on the market that focus on talents and skills. The best books have some sort of talent review included, which will require your participation. Ask the salesperson at your local book store, or your librarian how to find these books.

The second step is to ask those who know you best. Your spouse, manager, minister, friends and relatives are all good sources of information. However this step is less exacting than the first step, so evaluate all of the information you get from these people. You will know if their information is correct. If a friend tells you that you are great at nurturing, yet you feel no compassion for others and serving others gives you no satisfaction, that friend may see a talent that does not exist.

Last week we considered values, this week we investigated talents, next week we will put them together in order to evaluate which careers might be best for you.

How To Survive
The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Hoping you can settle a dispute between my live-in boyfriend and I. We live in the Lake County, Illinois area. He has been unemployed since early January and was released from his job at (name withheld) because he had excessive tardiness. His boss gave him many chances and yet he kept saying to me that they would never fire him. Well they did and now he has been unemployed for the past 5 months. He was working in the shipping and receiving department for a mid size company for 7 months earning $9.00 an hour and before that his employment was pretty much in the same field of packaging and shipping for various companies. For several months now, he sits in front of his computer of these
.com job search places, filling out applications all over the place.
It has become his "hobby" as he puts it. He said that he figures sooner or later someone will offer him a job. I have told him that I think that he is taking the wrong approach to finding a job, but he doesn't agree. I try to tell him that sitting in front of his computer at home all day is no way to find a job. I am hoping that you can respond to this email because perhaps he needs to hear it from someone else, even though his friends tell him the same thing. I hope to hear from you. (via email address withheld) Q: We need to look at a couple of factors. First it is important to know that the .com's are not for everyone. The fact that he has worked pretty much in the same field of shipping and receiving, with this last position at $9.00/hr leads me to suggest that at his level he could possibly do much better searching on his own locally. There are many companies in Lake County (including the corporation he was employed with) who search for experienced shipping and receiving persons. A qualified S&R individual with a good work ethics and stability in their background should have little trouble getting solid employment with a strong company. I can tell you that the question here is not the availability of these jobs. The question is your friends lack of responsibility and respect for his job.
In a job market like we are in, to test the waters, so to speak, and believe that your boss won't fire you because you are indispensable is downright ridiculous. In his case, he proved it! By now I am sure you have also realized that he was not eligible to receive any unemployment compensation as he was released for cause. Sitting around in front of a computer hoping that a job will come to you is not a very pro-active approach. He would do much better to change his job search approach, his attitude towards showing up to work on time, his crazy notion that he is indispensable, possibly his late night activities keeping from getting to work on time and his choice of alarm clocks.

4 Fundamentals to all Great Putters

When putting, remember to check these four set-up fundamentals:

- 1) Putter face square to target line
- 2) Eyes over target line
- 3) Shoulders square (parallel) to target line
- 4) Hands vertically under shoulders

There can still be a lot of individual style and comfort within these parameters. These four set-up fundamentals are common to all great putters, and will help insure your success.
